2 DEVELOPMENTS BRIGHTEN HUE OF INDUSTRIAL SKY

Wage Increase Is Announced For Lake Carriers Boat Workers

ACCEPT CONCESSIONS

Pay Agreement At Kenosha Automobile Plant Ends Strike

(By Associated Press)
At least two developments gave a brighter hue today to the industrial situation.

Ten per cent wage increases were announced last night for all workers on boats operated by the Lake Charles association. If all 400 boats operated by members are in service this year about 13,000 persons will receive the increase.

Employees of the Nash Motor company's Kenosha, Wis., plant voted to accept new wage concessions from the company and end a six weeks' strike.

Elsewhere unrest grew and in some places was marked by violence.

A strike of tool and die makers in 45 of Detroit's 62 job plants became effective at midnight. Approximately 3,800 men are affected. The other 17 plants, employing 1,200 men, negotiated separate agreements.

Two thousand workers at the electric autolite plant in Toledo, O., dropped negotiations for a five per cent wage increase May 1 and walked out.

Two branches of the Glove Cutters' union at Gloversville, N. Y., comprising 900 of the 3,000 union members, voted to walk out at 3 p. m. today unless their wages are increased.

Two pickets at the Cleveland Worsted Mills company plant were shot, one suffering serious wounds. They told police an unidentified man fired at them with a shotgun. A strike has been on at the plant for several weeks.

Two mill employees who have remained at work during the strike of knitters at three Indiana hosiery mills reported bricks were thrown through windows of their homes. A third said the windshield of his car was broken.

Authority to call a strike at the St. Louis Chevrolet and Fisher Body plants was voted the executive committee of the Federated Automobile Workers of America at a meeting of workers last night. The trouble is over the alleged refusal of the two companies to rehire about 250 men, most of whom have been active in union affairs.

Five local unions in the automotive industry at Pontiac, Mich., ignored the automobile labor board and presented new demands to manufacturers for higher wages and shorter hours.

Striking aircraft workers in Buffalo expressed concern over threats of the Curtiss company to move operations to a Baltimore plant. Almost 2,100 workers are involved at two factories which have contracts for about $5,500,000.

Detroit Tool, Die Workers On Strike

DETROIT, April 13.—(AP)—Detroit's tool and die industry strike, affecting between 2,500 and 4,000 men, is on.

Workers ratified strike plans last night. Picketing started at midnight when the Automotive Tool and Die Manufacturers' association, an organization of job shop operators, refused the workers' demands for 50 per cent boost and a 36-hour week.

The strike does not affect those tool and die workers employed in the automobile industry proper but only those in the job plants.

In a few cases job plants which negotiated separate agreements with

VETERAN DIES

Death claimed another member of the thinning ranks of the Confederate veterans when W. H. Ayl, 84, died at his home here Friday morning. He was a former commander of the local post of Confederate veterans.

Jes' Ramblin' ABOUT THE TOWN

Miss Irene Hickerson reports that her Vol. VI of Elbert Hubbard's "Little Journeys" was borrowed by someone and has not been returned. "I want to get it back, because it is part of a valued set," she explains, not unreasonably. This report is in answer to "Book Lover's" suggestion that owners of lost books send the information to "Jes' Ramblin'", who has promised to help recover unreturned loaned books.

E. H. Heynolds, one of the executives of the Missouri Pacific, who came from St. Louis to attend the Booster Club dinner Tuesday night, told several good stories while he was here. "I was in Washington a few days ago," he said, "and the newspaper men were getting a chuckle out of a yarn one of them told. He solemnly asseverated that an empty taxicab drove up in front of the New William hotel—and outstepped Huey Long." There was another story about a congressman who complained that certain lobbyists "are raising so much hell that General Johnson is expected to issue an order to plow under fifty per cent of it."

The other day, Mrs. Harry Frazer took Jimmie Jones and Harry Frazer, Jr., to Heninger's place of business on Grand street. There the youngsters saw a sign which read, "Peccans—Furs." Well, says Jimmie Jones, "I've heard of furs and lots of kinds of furs, too, but what kind of furs is 'peccan furs,' I didn't know peccans had furs."

TENANT FARMING SCORED AT MEET

FERA Administrators Of 3 States Gather At New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(AP)—Elimination of the tenant system of farming to make the farm population self-sustaining is a primary objective of emergency relief measures now underway. Col. Lawrence Westbrook, of Washington, assistant administrator of the FERA, said here yesterday in a conference with state administrators from Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

"With the ending of the tenant system," he said, "one of the principle causes of economic trouble in the agricultural south will be eliminated." Rehabilitation problems in Mississippi were discussed by George Powers of Jackson, and Thad Holt of Montgomery told of conditions in Alabama. Harry J. Early, state administrator of Louisiana, and members of his staff, including Dean J. G. Lee, department of agriculture, Louisiana State university, Dean J. L. Fletcher, Southwest Louisiana institute, also spoke.

CALLS BEFORE JURY

DALLAS, April 13.—(AP)—Dr. J. Frank Norris, Fort Worth preacher, came to Dallas today under an official summons to testify before the grand jury concerning his charges that a Dallas deputy sheriff was a go-between for Clyde Barrow, southwest killer, and his mother, who lives just west of this city.

POLICE STATION RAID PINNED TO JOHN DILLINGER

Officer Slugged; Bullet-Proof Vests And Pistols Stolen

FORAY CAUSES ALARM

Authorities And Bankers Are On Edge In Indiana Towns

WARSAW, Ind., April 13.—(AP)—A man identified as John Dillinger led a machine gun raid on the Warsaw police station today, slugging a policeman, stole four bullet-proof vests and two revolvers and got away.

Jud Pittinger, the slugged policeman, said he was "quite positive" that one of the two raiders was the Indiana "wooden gun" desperado. He recognized the other from photographs as Homer Van Meter, paroled Indiana convict and a member of Dillinger's original gang of bandits.

The raid, the third such foray in small Indiana cities credited to Dillinger's mob, put police and bank officials on edge. Similar raids at Auburn and Peru last October preceded bank robberies at Greencastle and East Chicago, Ind., and Racine, Wis.

Pittinger said the two criminals hit him on the head in an alley near the station. At machine gun point, they forced him to walk to the station, on the second floor of the fire house, and open the case in which the arms were kept.

While they were choosing the vests, he said, he broke away and ran. The two pursued him for a short distance, but then returned to their black sedan and roared out of town. Paul Hodges, city fireman, awoke in his quarters downstairs just in time to see the raiders leave.

There seemed no doubt in Pittinger's mind that the leader of the bandits was the notorious outlaw whose "wooden gun" escape from the "escape-proof" Crown Point, Ind., jail March 3 amazed the country.

Officers of surrounding cities watched the highways for the gunmen's

Louisiana Tech Professor Addresses State Convention

The high point of Friday morning's session of the state Parent-Teacher association's convention, being held in the Cherokee Terrace of Hotel Frances, was the address of Dr. Gustaf Freden, of the department of education at Louisiana Polytechnic institute, Ruston. Dr. Freden discussed the "Governing Normal Mental Development."

"The child's personality training," he said, "begins in the cradle. The climate or atmosphere of the home must be calm, clear and healthy. This mental or psychic atmosphere consists of the looks, words and acts of those who constitute the family. To children this atmosphere may be more elevating or more depressing than the real climate outside. Children are highly suggestible and quickly catch the emotions and consequent behavior of those about them. When thunder and lightning appear on the home horizon, it must be diverted by the lightning rods of good will and mutual understanding. The home is not a dumping ground for pet peeves. We should do unto our family as we would do unto others. Courtesy is a wonderful social lubricant in the home as well as in society at large."

Turning to child training in later years, the speaker said: "Most par-

Three Killed And One Hurt As Train Hits Car

VICKSBURG, Miss., April 13.—(AP)—Three members of one family were fatally injured and one other seriously hurt today when an Illinois Central passenger train struck the automobile in which the four were riding near Bovina, Miss., seven miles east of Vicksburg.

The dead: Oscar Williams, 55; Mrs. Oscar Williams, 31; and their five-year-old daughter, Willie Louvina Williams. The nine-year-old son of the Williams couple, Oscar, sustained a possible skull fracture and was brought here in a grave condition.

BLOOD FLOWING FROM CRUCIFIX ANNOUNCED

Blood flowed from the crucifix shown here, in a miraculous manifestation, as an orphan girl knelt in prayer before it, according to announcement by the Oblate Fathers of St. Joseph, whose mother house is in Asti, Italy, where the crucifix is enshrined. This picture was taken by the canon of the diocese of Asti and permission given to publish it and announce the miracle. A diocesan tribunal, after long watching, decided that no trickery was involved. At the right is the sanctuary of the Oblate Fathers in Asti.

BREARD EXPLAINS MOVE TO REDUCE MAINTENANCE TAX

Says Police Jury Realizes Economy One Of Foremost Issues

Action of the Ouachita parish police jury in proposing a reduction of the road maintenance tax from two mills to one and one-half mills was taken in response to a general demand on the part of the property owners of the parish for reduction of taxes, it was stated Friday by John M. Breard, president of the jury.

The road maintenance tax is voted by the people every five years. The proceeds are used to keep in repair the public roads, other than those maintained by the state, throughout the parish. For the past fifteen years a tax of two mills has been approved by the voters. Previous to that time the tax was three mills each year. Vote on the proposition will be submitted to the property owners on June 5 next.

A reduction of one-half mill in the road maintenance tax will mean a saving of $25,000 a year to the taxpayers, President Breard pointed out. This saving, coming as it does, the president said, in addition to a reduction of approximately 30 per cent in the assessed valuation of properties throughout the parish in the last three years, represents substantial

AMENDMENTS OUT OF COTTON BILL

Only Minor Senate Changes Left In Measure By Conferees

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—The Bankhead cotton bill stood shorn today of all but a few minor senate amendments at the result of a senate-house conference agreement on the measure.

Plans were underway to bring the report before the senate by Monday and call the measure up in the house shortly after the senate votes on it. Approval is indicated at the White House should congress accept the measure in its present form.

Senator Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, who will guide the conference report in the senate, said yesterday he expected approval "without difficulty." Since the legislation now stands practically as it left the house, little trouble was forecast for it there.

The purpose of the measure is to restrict this year's cotton production to 10,000,000 bales so as to improve

Riots Feature Student Move To Halt Wars

NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—A cry "strike against war" sounded on many campuses today, summoning students to drop books at 11 a. m. and demonstrate for peace. Even before the movement got officially under way it resulted in bruises for about 20 persons.

A riot launched the peace drive in Brooklyn last night. About 500 students of an evening high school joined 2,000 other persons in trying to persuade 1,500 remaining students to join their ranks.

There was a melee, in which police swung night sticks and demonstrators swung fists and feet. After the wild turmoil was over, two policemen were treated for sprains and bruises, and a citizen for scalp wounds. Many others

SAMUEL INSULL TURNS JOKESTER

Fugitive Heading Toward Smyrna To Board Ship For U. S.

PANDERMA, Turkey, April 13.—(AP)—Samuel Insull turned jokester today on a little train chugging toward Smyrna, where a ship waits to return him to the United States for trial.

To the surprise of fellow-passengers, he cast off his appearance of despair during the night voyage by ship from Istanbul to this Marmara seaport. He even joked about the seven-man Turkish escort.

"It is remarkable," he said in jest, "that I should need an escort of seven. I'm perfectly harmless."

That was over the after-dinner coffee aboard the steamer Adana en route from Istanbul.

Dispute Over Constable Job Blamed For Slaying

BEAUMONT, Tex., April 13.—(AP)—A constable was blamed today for the shooting in which Louis H. Russell, 54, prominent Bronson merchant, was slain.

Noble Garrett, 38, operator of a shoe repair shop, was jailed at Hemp-hill, Sabine county seat, on charges growing out of the shooting of Russell in the victim's store at Bronson late yesterday. Garrett held the office of constable until three months ago, when he resigned.

Russell was said to have been instrumental in having R. D. Jordan appointed constable in place of Garrett, who was seeking to get his old job back.

HARRIS APPROVES TAX BODY'S PLAN FOR SCHOOL AID

Says Poor Communities Must "Get Break" In Carrying Burden

State Superintendent T. H. Harris, speaking before the eleventh annual convention of the Louisiana Parent-Teacher association here last night, said that he "heartily agrees with the recommendation of the state tax reform commission for the solution of the financial problems facing the public school system."

"The commission recommends," he said, "a plan for a state-wide levy to yield $12,000,000 for school purposes and the abolition of all special taxes for the same purpose. Failing that, the commission recommends a levy to raise $10,000,000 and a reduction of special taxes for school purposes so that the rate would not exceed a total of three mills. I believe that one or other of those plans will be adopted by the legislature provided that political disagreements will interpose themselves to prevent their adoption."

Superintendent Harris said that "the time has come to relieve the communities and the parishes of all school taxes and place the burden on the state at large." "There are forty parishes in the state," he went on, "which are receiving federal aid for schools."

WILLIAM H. AWL SUCCUMBS HERE

Funeral For Confederate Veteran Will Be Held Saturday Morning

William H. Awl, 84, one of the few remaining Confederate veterans in Monroe, died at his home at 217 Adams street, at 10:07 o'clock Friday morning. Mr. Awl had been in failing health for a number of years and had been confined to his home for about five years.

At one time Mr. Awl was commander of Henry W. Allen post No. 182, Confederate veterans. He was in the service of the Confederate army for three years and was within range of the sound of guns in the battle of Mansfield, although he did not participate in any battles.

Mr. Awl was born June 10, 1849, at Natchez, Miss., and lived less than two months longer. He moved with his parents to Ouachita parish in 1853 and, with the exception of several

SULLIVAN ENTERS DENIALS; HEARING FINALLY FINISHED

Executive Session Is To Be Held On Saturday Morning

SPORTSMAN TESTIFIES

Witness Says He prevented Opening Of Jai-Alai House

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—The senate finance committee today concluded its lengthy investigation into the qualifications of D. D. Moore, as collector of internal revenue at New Orleans with a repitition of denials by Colonel John P. Sullivan that he controlled the revenue office or was connected with gambling in Louisiana.

"The committee hearing is adjourned," Chairman Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, announced. "The committee will meet in executive session tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock."

Colonel Sullivan Is Cross-Examined

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—Colonel John P. Sullivan, New Orleans lawyer-sportsman, told the senate finance committee today he had prevailed upon two other men not to open a "jai-alai" house for gambling while Senator Huey Long was governor of Louisiana because he knew Long "was opposed to gambling."

The committee is investigating the fitness of D. D. Moore for internal revenue collector at New Orleans. Long says the office, since Moore's as yet unconfirmed appointment, has been under Sullivan's control, and that Sullivan and Col. E. R. Bradley, Kentucky horse breeder, have been gambling partners.

Sullivan took the stand today for cross-examination by Long on his previous testimony, during which he said he did not dominate the office and—as far as gambling went—didn't even know how to read a racing form.

Long charged Sullivan with promoting the jai-alai establishment, in com-

ROOSEVELT GETS ROUSING WELCOME BACK TO CAPITAL

President In Jocular Mood As He Returns From Vacation

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—President Roosevelt was welcomed back from his Florida vacation today by some 200 members of congress.

"I can't be truthful and say I am glad to get back. I'm sorry," he told them jocularly when cheering subsided.

"While I've had a wonderful time I gather that both houses of congress have also had a wonderful time."

Laughter greeted his sallies. The congressional delegation, led by Vice President Garner and Speaker Rainey, had marched over to union station from the capital behind the marine band. Martial music echoed.

When the presidential train arrived Mrs. Roosevelt, accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Anna Dall, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James Roosevelt, and her son, Elliott, immediately went aboard.

A few minutes later the official senate and house committees went in to the president's car.

The congressional contingent outside shouted and applauded when the president later emerged on the arm

Nazi Youths Of Prussia Rally Against Catholics

KOENIGSBERG, Germany, April 13.—(AP)—Members of the east Prussia Nazi youth organization rallied behind their leader today for a "finish fight" for supremacy over the Catholic youth movement.

Their chief, Herr Ammerlahn, told a mass meeting last night that the Nazi association was prepared for the battle and intended to see it through.

He referred to Catholic clergymen who have encouraged their organization in defying Nazi orders to disband and merge with the Hitler band as "hypocrites."

Ammerlahn declared reports that a recent Catholic youth rally at Heunigsdorf, Berlin suburb, was broken up violently by Nazi youths, were circulated to discredit the Hitler youth organization.

ESCAPED CONVICT IS SHOT DOWN IN HOLDUP ATTEMPT

Ralph C. Higgins, 35, Is Slain By Employee Of Road House

BARKALOW IS SLAYER

Death-Dealing Bullets Poured Into Robber From Window

Ralph C. Higgins, 35, escaped convict from the Louisiana state penitentiary, was killed shortly after midnight today as he attempted to hold up several customers and employees in the Three-Mile inn, a sandwich shop owned by Jack Angell, about three miles from here on the Dixie Overland highway. Angell was in the building at the time.

Higgins was shot through a window of the inn by W. H. Barkalow, employee of the place as the bandit held Angell and several persons a bay with a .45 caliber Colt revolver.

Barkalow was in a small room at the rear of the inn when Higgins came in and ordered all the occupants of the room to "stick 'em up!" Barkalow slipped from the rear of the building without being observed by the bandit, went to Angell's home, obtained a .32 caliber automatic pistol and returned to a window of the inn where he opened fire on Higgins, according to Sheriff Milton Coverdale who investigated the shooting.

Higgins, upon entering the inn, fired one bullet in the floor to attract attention of the customers and then commanded them to hold up their hands.

After Barkalow had fired, Higgins ran out of the building and east on the highway where he was found lying in the road by a driver of a truck. The driver told Angell of his discovery and the inn proprietor notified the sheriff's department.

Higgins was not dead when officers reached his side, but was gasping for breath and expired several minutes later as he was being taken to town, Mr. Coverdale said.

The bandit had the lower part of his face covered with a handkerchief and face powder sprinkled on the upper part of the face when he entered the inn, the sheriff said. Use of powder on the face is a common method used by bandits in disguising their features the officer said.

Higgins' career of crime dated back approximately 10 years, according to records on file at the sheriff's office. He was first arrested here by the sheriff's department April 17, 1923. He and a companion, W. E. Hayes, were apprehended by the officers in a houseboat moored on the west bank of the Ouachita river, near West Monroe.

After incarceration in the parish jail, Higgins and Hayes confessed to a series of robberies in north Louisiana. Among the crimes they admitted having committed were robberies of the East Side store and Burns' Cash store, Delhi, the Dumas store at Cheniere, and the Epps Drug store at Epps. These crimes were perpetrated a few days before the arrest of Higgins and Hayes.

After the confessions the local sheriff's department learned that Higgins was wanted in Arkansas where he had escaped from the state penitentiary. He was sentenced there Feb. 4, 1925, to several years in the penitentiary on a burglary charge.

The authorities here released Higgins April 23, 1930, to the Arkansas officers to finish his term there.

Hayes was found to be an escaped federal convict and was turned over to United States officers, returned to a federal penitentiary, Mr. Coverdale said.

After Higgins had served his pany with Willis Thomas and Fred Kriss.

Sullivan replied by producing an affidavit from Thomas saying Sullivan had no connection with it.

Long then asked Sullivan if he had not been one of a group which approached Long when he was governor relative to "opening a gambling dive in St. Bernard parish."

Sullivan said he had been approached by a Willis Thomas and Fred Kriss to have a title cleared so they could establish a "Jai-Alai" house. He explained the game was Cuban and similar to racquet.

Sullivan said he warned them not to go through with it if they intended to have bets placed on the game. He said he told them the governor "was opposed to gambling."

"While they were in my office I told them I would telephone Governor Long and confirm my statement the governor would oppose any gambling," Sullivan said.

He added he talked over the telephone with Long and the conversation resulted in the men deciding not to open the place.

Sullivan called "untrue" Long's statement that he (Sullivan) and E. V. Benjamin had proposed organization of a road construction company in connection with the Louisiana highway program.

Sullivan said Benjamin told him he wanted specifications made to include calcium chloride so Benjamin could bid on paving contracts and was considering organization of a company with $200,000 capital.

"I told him I was not interested and would not be interested," Sullivan said.

He did tell Long he had represented a paving company as a lawyer on work outside Louisiana.

"I have never had any interest in any highway or paving contracts in Louisiana before, during or after your administration as governor," Sullivan told Long.

Senator Long then returned to the subject of the internal revenue office.

Sullivan said during Long's campaign for governor that he had "importuned Long to wipe out gambling in St. Bernard parish."

Sullivan denied telling Long that Kriss was "the squarrest gambler I know" and asking Long if it "would be all right to establish a gambling house."

He also denied telling Kriss "to go out and take a chance" on opening the establishment.

In connection with a state militia raid on a gambling house in Jefferson parish, February 15, 1929, Long asked Sullivan if he did not "appear on the scene" at Baton Rouge the next March 3 to aid in Long's impeachment.

Sullivan said he went there "to consult with friends who believed you should be impeached."

He denied he had taken part in starting the impeachment proceedings or that "gambling had anything to do with it."

Sullivan said his understanding was the impeachment "occurred overnight" after disclosure that the "voting machine was crooked on a vote for adjournment."

Long asked Sullivan if he did not visit him (Long) at his hotel room the day after the Jefferson raid and advised him to place the money seized in a fiscal bank and not the state treasury.

"Yes, you were afraid you would be caught with the money on your hands," Sullivan said.

"And on your advice, I put it in a bank and it was immediately seized through court order," Long said, adding:

"That was the last time I took any advice from you."

Asked by Long if he had not testified that he did not know how to "shoot dice," Sullivan said he did not know how to "play dice" and had never been in a "gambling house, pool room or hand-book place in Louisiana."

"When we raided the place where we seized Kriss," Long asked, "wasn't there found dice with the six-spot omitted and loaded in such a manner that they would throw two one's but couldn't throw an eleven at all, and that Kriss knew something about dice if you didn't?"

Sullivan insisted he had no knowledge of dice and added:

"There are crooked and straight gamblers, crooked and straight politicians and crooked and straight lawyers."

He reiterated he never recalled telling Long Kriss was a "square gambler."

Before Sullivan took the stand, Long recalled E. S. Brock, state bank commissioner, to identify exhibits showing brokers had made $8,733 profits on five mortgage loan transactions involving the Hibernia Homestead association, in which Sullivan is interested, and the federal home loan office.

Long has charged that Sullivan carried on "racketeering" operations with the Home Owners Loan corporation and controlled that office as well as Moore's. Sullivan has denied these charges.

So has Moore.

Sullivan said his law office's only connection with the Hibernia homestead was to make "acts of sale and examine title."

A Mr. Potter had been taken into his office since Misses Evelyn Flatery and Pearl Maritzky left to work at the internal revenue office, he said, and Miss Thyra Golden, now with the internal revenue office, had not been on his salary list but only worked in his office for experience.

Long attempted to show that one man stenographer had replaced the women, but Sullivan explained the law business at that time had "gone out the window" and it was necessary to have only one stenographer.

Miss Flatery only did part time work for him, he said, and Miss Maritzky was on leave of absence just prior to going with the revenue office.

When Long persisted in questioning Sullivan to the effect that three employees had left his employ and had not been replaced, Senator Hastings, Republican, Delaware, asked Long to stop "trying to deceive the committee."

"I am not trying to deceive anybody," Long replied, but this line of inquiry was dropped. It then turned to gambling.

car, but it was unreported hours later.

Dillinger last was reported in Indiana last Sunday, when federal operatives at Indianapolis were said to have seen him driving an automobile. On Monday he was reported in a similar car at Pittsburgh, Pa., and it was determined the machine was purchased for cash at Indianapolis last Saturday by a woman said by the salesman to resemble Evelyn Frechet, alleged Dillinger gang associate now under arrest at Chicago.

The Auburn and Peru police station raids last October came a few days after the delivery of Dillinger from jail at Lima, Ohio, during which Sheriff Jess Sarber was shot and killed. For that slaying, Harry Pierpont and Charles Makley await execution in the Ohio state prison, while Russell Clark is under life sentence.

John Dillinger

May Be Anywhere

SHREVEPORT, La., April 13.—(P)—John Dillinger, America's No. 1 desperado, today was somewhere in Louisiana, Texas, Mississippi, Alabama—or maybe Indiana.

Officers vaguely traced an eccentric course across the four southern states, and stationed trigger-fingered guards along the route in the hope of halting the bizarre gunman's flight.

Meanwhile, in Indiana, the Warsaw police station reported that three men, one of them resembling Dillinger, raided it early today, slugged a night policeman, and escaped with revolvers and bullet-proof vests.

The vigil, however, was maintained in the south early today.

Dillinger, with Homer Van Meter and Thomas Carroll, said to be his associates, are believed to have been the men who threatened investigating officers at Nashville, Tenn., with a machine gun and were later sighted at Carbon Hill, Ala.

Barber Says He Shaved Bandit

McCOMB, Miss., April 13.—(P)—After viewing pictures of John Dillinger in morning papers, M. L. Foster, local barber, told police here today he was ready to take oath that he gave the fugitive "or his twin brother" a shave Wednesday afternoon.

Other attendants in the shop backed up Foster's statement, asserting their attention was particularly attracted to the stranger-customer because he exhibited so much nervousness, after getting shaved, when he was forced to wait for his tall, dark-haired woman companion to finish with a shampoo in the adjoining beauty shop.

they were not connected with any widely known criminal gang.

The prisoners gave their names as Guy Taylor, Jesse Grover Butts, Andrew McDaniel, Frank Montgomery, Bill H. Thorne and Clifford Kell. The women were said to be the wives of Thorne, Kell and Taylor. Thorne's wife had the baby.

Akers said he believed the prisoners were confidence men and "card sharks."

A federal agent joined police in the investigation.

Akers said that Thorne had been under a murder charge at El Paso, Texas; that Kell had been under a Mann Act charge at El Paso, and that Butts had gone to the Arkansas penitentiary in 1926 to serve three years for accessory to robbery.

"We had information that Clyde Barrow was here," Akers said, "and we thought that was what we were going into when we went to the apartment house."

Thorne, Kell and the former's wife and baby fled in a car as the police arrived at the apartment house. They were overtaken on the highway.

"What we want to find out now is what they were doing with all those $20 bills," Akers said.

He planned to question the prisoners during the afternoon.

ington's request, did not disturb Insull's sleep.

He was sleeping soundly when the Adana docked here at 3 a. m. He was taken ashore at 6:15. Half an hour later he was aboard the train, Smyrna-bound.

The train was due at Smyrna, about 175 miles from Panderma, at 8:30 o'clock tonight. There, aboard the American export liner Exilona, Insull will be handed over to Burton Y. Berry, of the American embassy at Istanbul. Berry was designed to accompany him homeward.

The trip may require a month. Frequent stops probably will be made as the vessel meanders through the Mediterranean. Then it will cross the Atlantic to Boston and New York.

The gray-haired old man laughed frequently at dinner on the Adana. Nine of the ship's eleven first-class passengers dined with him. Berry and Maj. John A. Crane, military attaché at the Istanbul embassy, did not appear at the table.

Insull looked at the Turkish police commissioner, Nail Bey, when he mentioned his escort. Others at the table were a detective, five newspapermen and a cameraman, besides Young Miss Feriha, Turkish girl who formerly was a student at the University of Chicago. She sat at Insull's right.

The captured fugitive adroitly turned the conversation away from his world-famous case. Yet, when somebody jokingly asked why he ever went to Istanbul, he shot back in the same jocular vein:

"I'm beginning to wonder, myself."

Taken aboard the Adana at Istanbul, Insull went up on deck shortly before its departure for Panderma at 7 o'clock last night. He waved to the throngs on the wharf, his gray hair flying.

He appeared resigned to his fate when police informed him early yesterday that his lawyers had lost their last fight to delay his extradition when an appeal was refused.

— what it means

— to store
70 million dollars worth of tobacco
— 4½ miles of warehouses

Everything that Science knows about is used in making Chesterfields.

One thing we do is to buy mild, ripe tobaccos and then lock up these tobaccos in modern storage warehouses to age and mellow like rare wines.

It takes about 3 years to age the tobaccos for your Chesterfield, for Time does something to tobacco that neither man nor machine can do.

It means something to keep 70 million dollars worth of tobacco in storage. It means just this:

We do everything possible to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better.

ents and teachers pride themselves if they can get the children to "toe the mark." But discipline as such is but the instilling of fear into others so as to bend them to our will. Control resting on that basis is of questionable merit, except maybe, in the army and the prison. Lasting and effective control must be imparted in the mind of each individual in the form of right ideas and high ideals. Our children should learn from the beginning to love the right, rather than to fear the wrong; they should learn self-discipline and obedience to the accepted social and religious standards lodged in their own breasts. They do the right because it is right, not because of force applied from without. Children, and adults, too, for that matter, rebel against being interfered with when an activity is in progress. He may, if interference persists, go into vigorous action urged on by the "pugnacious" or fighting spirit. It is to control that normal spirit and properly direct it that child training should be directed.

A colorful feature of the morning session was the appearance of the "Mother Singers," under the direction of Mrs. Mildred S. Reidman, assistant state chairman of music. The group, composed of vocalists from New Orleans, Lafayette, Lake Charles, Alexandria, Shreveport and Monroe, gave a distinguished and inspirational program. Mrs. Reidman, explaining the object of the "Mother Singers" phase of the parent-teacher association work, said: "It is an educational project, but it is more than that; it is an influence that stimulates the best and richest emotions in our people, and its effect is for the advancement of the highest cultural achievements because music, and especially vocal music, vivifies the mind and sharpens the intellect."

The "Mother Singers" program was received with acclaim by the gathering of delegates that crowded the Cherokee Terrace to hear the group. Nominations to fill official positions in the Louisiana Parent-Teachers association, where the terms of incumbents have expired, were submitted to the eleventh annual convention of the organization in session here Thursday. The nominations cover the offices of first, third, fifth and seventh vice-presidents, whose terms cover a period of two years. The president and the remaining vice-presidents continue in their posts for another year.

The nominations reported at Thursday afternoon's meeting were made as follows: first vice-president, Mrs. George Meade, Gramercy; third vice-president, Mrs. Albert Smith, Winnfield; fifth vice-president, Prof. C. C. Colvert, Monroe; seventh vice-president, Mrs. H. S. Egan, Shreveport. Nominations of Mrs. R. L. McHenry as secretary and J. J. McMillan as auditor were also made.

Election of officers will be held Saturday morning. The first day of the convention reached its climax Thursday night in a public gathering at Neville High school, where Rabbi Louis Binstock of New Orleans, delivered an inspirational address on "Education for Parents and Children in the New Era." State Superintendent T. H. Harris of Baton Rouge addressed the convention on "Financing Our Schools."

Rabbi Binstock made a brilliant speech in his appeal for cooperation between parents and teachers in the preparation of the youth of the nation for mature responsibilities.

"In the past we have paid too much attention to the materialities of life," he said, "and it has hindered and circumscribed our efforts to create a worthwhile citizenship. Now we realize that there are things more important than wealth, or power to be achieved, and it is our task to set before the young people of our nation the spiritual and cultural values as the most essential things in life."

Supt. Harris in his address declared that "if we are to have honest, trustworthy, efficient citizens of the future we must be able to devote our efforts to education of our children, rather than to spend all our forces on the solution of financial problems, which hamper and obstruct us in the development of our main object."

The program, given at Neville high school, included the appearance of the Ouachita Parish high school Glee club, under direction of Mrs. Geo. Moffett. The singing of the group made a fine impression on the audience of parent-teachers from all sections of the state. The club and its director were given rounds of applause.

L. A. Stulpe, educational director of the First Baptist church, contributed solo to the program, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. C. C. Corner. Mrs. R. L. McHenry, general chairman of the state, presided. On the stage with her were Mrs. L. A. Mailhes, state president; Miss Myrtle Rodgers, chairman of the motion picture department; Mrs. L. B. Chambers, fifth vice-president; and Mrs. W. O. Blackman, chairman child hygiene.

"Triple Alliance for Happiness," was the subject of the address made by Prof. C. C. Colvert, president of the Ouachita Parish Junior college, at Thursday afternoon's session.

"Physical, mental and spiritual development are necessary for the well being and happiness of the individual," he said. "Much attention is being paid to the physical development of the child. Beginning with the preschool child, physical examinations are made and defects corrected. Careful supervision is given until adolescence when the factor of sex enters. We have dodged the matter of sex education."

Stressing the importance of mental and social hygiene, Professor Colvert stated that homes and schools have failed to give the necessary attention to social and mental life. "More demands are made upon ourselves and our children than ever before. We meet more people in one day than our grand parents met in a year's time. We must teach our children the value of cooperation and to adapt themselves to changing conditions," he concluded.

Miss Elizabeth Junkin, representing the Girl Scouts' organization of New York also spoke briefly, outlining the work of the Girl Scout organization. A distinguished speaker at the various sessions is Miss Mary England of Montgomery, Ala. Miss England is the national membership chairman. Speaking on the "Spirit of P. T. A.," Thursday morning, Miss England said that getting acquainted, learning to laugh and learning to play together were necessary before individuals are ready to work together.

Miss England conducted a recreation period during which the entire assembly sang those old favorites, "The Long, Long Trail," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Swanee River" and others.

Miss England was a speaker at the luncheon held Thursday noon, and also at the Friday afternoon session, when she spoke on "The Value of Parent-Teacher Associations in this Era." She will be a speaker at the annual banquet at Hotel Virginia tonight. Her subject will be "Frontiers in Education."

The annual banquet will be a colorful function. Honor guests will include all the program speakers, board members, district chairmen and officers, who will be presented by the state president, Mrs. L. A. Mailhes. Greetings will be given by Mrs. George P. Meade and Mrs. Hy Alcus, past presidents of the state body. Miss Marian Telford, New York, of the national organization, will present greetings.

At the afternoon session Friday the program was devoted to the diversified projects supported by parent-teacher associations throughout the state. Miss Telford, national safety chairman, spoke on "Security for Children." Fred Williamson, chairman of the Monroe Recreation board, spoke on "Recreation as an Asset of Citizenship." "Building for the Future" was the subject of an address by Mrs. R. E. Smyth, Shreveport.

Following is the program for Saturday, Mrs. Albert L. Smith, presiding.

7:45 a.m.—Publicity breakfast, Mrs. L. S. Davis, state chairman. (Virginia hotel.)

8:45 a.m.—"Newer Trends, in Program Planning and Building," Mrs. J. C. Webb, followed by half hour conference on Programs, Mrs. C. B. Prothro.

Blaze Destroys Buildings At Milneburg Playground

NEW ORLEANS, April 13.—(P)—Fire early today destroyed several deserted, dilapidated buildings which once formed a playground at Milneburg, on the shores of Lake Pontchartrain, for New Orleans merry-makers.

Fanned by a stiff wind, flames spread from place to place, razing what was once a recreation center, a merry-go-round and other now-abandoned buildings. Burned to the ground, too, was a one-room shack once used as a "detention house" for over-hilarious celebrants. Two men sleeping in the area escaped injury.

prices of the commodity and lower the huge surplus.

As the bill came from conference yesterday, the 10,000,000-bale limit would apply for a year, with the president authorized to extend it another year with the approval of two-thirds of the cotton producers.

A 50 per cent tax would be levied on extra-quota production at the time it was sold. The senate approved a 75 per cent ad valorem tax, but some conferees regarded the higher amount as confiscatory and likely to bring a declaration of unconstitutionality against the measure.

The secretary of agriculture would fix state and county quotas on the basis of the past five years' production. Farmers' allotments would be established by the county committees operating under the voluntary plan to curtail cotton acreage.

Conferees were told yesterday by Cully Cobb, chief of the farm administration's cotton section, that the agriculture department already had determined state and county quotas using a five-year base.

A senate amendment was left in to make the bill inapplicable to long staple cotton raised in the southwest.

Another was kept to insure that any state that had produced as much as 250,000 bales in any of the years in the base period would receive an allotment of at least 200,000 bales.

Attacked by friends of the bill as threatening its effectiveness, a senate clause to exempt from the penalty tax six bales raised by each producer, was eliminated.

Seek To Supply Government Club

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(P)—Now that the senate has boosted the tax bill to $480,000,000, Republican independents in that chamber sought today to hand the government a club which they said would frighten tax-dodgers into shelling out.

Publicity was the weapon they chose. Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, who won approval of a stiff increase in inheritance and gift levies, yesterday brought before the senate an amendment to make all tax returns subject to public inspection. On the basis of past performances, this amendment looked like an easy winner.

This was the last major controversy to be settled before the tax measure which once was valued at $250,000,000 revenue bill—is approved. After the senate gets through with it, it goes to a conference with the house to adjust scores of senate additions and subtractions.

Senator Clark, Democrat, Missouri, had planned tentatively an amendment to tax the income from millions of dollars of securities now exempt, but it was uncertain whether he would put it to a vote.

A step toward discouraging huge salaries for officers of corporations and banks and thus raising more tax revenue from these sources was taken yesterday when an amendment by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, was approved. It would compel corporations to report annually to the treasury all officers being paid salaries or bonuses, or both, in excess of $15,000. The treasury would be required to send the list to congress where it would be made public.

LaFollette's publicity amendment would not seek to have a series of "news releases" on the return but would make them public records to which anyone might have access.

Indians of the northwest followed the lead of Navajos in the southwest, discarding the old tribal sheep-herd system for individual ownership.

today. Those parishes are taxed to death. They are not able to raise the funds that will be needed to carry on their schools when those government funds are withdrawn. It is time to give the poor communities a break, and it can only be done by a more equitable distribution of the tax burden. Some communities are able to assume more than an equal share of their school needs. Others are not able to bear it at all. They can be relieved only if the whole state takes on the task."

The superintendent voiced the view that "if some such plan is not adopted, the federal government must come in and render aid."

"Some people fear the idea of federal aid," he said. "I do not. We are today receiving help from the federal government in funds for repairing, rebuilding schools in 40 parishes out of the 64 in the state. We are also receiving funds for extending the school year in those parishes. We are having no difficulty through this government assistance. Federal agents cooperating with the state school authorities are taking no advantage of their activities in any effort to interfere with the operation of our schools. If they should we could readily inaugurate measures to regulate them."

The speaker went on to say: "I do not expect, however, that the federal government will undertake any extensive aid for schools, but that the problem must be worked out by the state itself. We must organize to impress on our legislators the need for state-wide aid or our public school system will collapse when the present government aid is withdrawn."

Mr. Harris paid tribute to the work being done in the state by the Parent-Teacher associations in crystallizing public sentiment on behalf of the schools and their importance as the agency for developing the child life of the state for responsible and intelligent citizenship.

"I congratulate this body on its great accomplishments and the constructive program it is pursuing for the public welfare," he said. "I hope the time will come when we can forget these financial problems and devote ourselves to the great task that lies before us in the all-important needs of education, and in this ambition we have the cordial and efficient cooperation of this organization, the powerful influence at work in the state for the improvement of social, cultural and spiritual conditions."

Texas Lady Tells How Black-Draught Laxative Helps All Her Family

Here's how Black-Draught fills the needs of a family laxative in the home of Mrs. J. S. Stoker, Fort Worth, Texas: "The grown-ups in my family," she writes, "have always taken powdered Theodor's Black-Draught for biliousness, headaches and other ailments (due to constipation) and found it a reliable remedy. I was very pleased when I saw Syrup of Black-Draught advertised. I bought it and gave it to my little daughters, ages 6 and 4. They needed something to cleanse their systems and Syrup Black-Draught acted well." . . . NO EMPLOYMENT FOR TRANSIENTS

Tennessee Valley Authority Warns No Jobs Available

NITRATE PLANT, Ala., April 13.—(AP)—The Tennessee Valley authority again warns transients that there are no jobs available for them in the Muscle Shoals area on TVA projects. Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, chairman of the TVA, in a letter to I. P. Macklin, corresponding secretary of the Florence transient workers, said, "You have been cruelly misinformed as to the prospects for employment in this region."

"With thousands of men who had already returned to the south after the industrial bubble had burst in the manufacturing centers of the north,

it was apparent that a policy of drawing men from the valley would in fact take care of many workers who economically would properly be chargeable to northern relief," Dr. Morgan wrote.

Dr. Morgan said an announcement was made last fall that the labor force, both skilled and unskilled, would be selected by examination. "Both decisions to select from the valley area and to select by examination were matters of broad policy and were not, as you have been informed, in the law."

The transient workers had protested to President Roosevelt that they were not being given jobs on TVA projects. They declared they were men willing and eager to work for an honest living and were not Communists.

A survey shows 1,093 men, women and children named on relief rolls in the area as transients.

LEGION OFFICER TO MAKE TOUR

Gray Mann, Of New Orleans Office, Announces Itinerary

Gray A. Mann, assistant service commissioner from the New Orleans office of the American Legion, will make a tour of posts in north Louisiana beginning April 23 and continuing through May 2. H. B. McClendon, local service officer, announced Friday.

Mr. Mann will explain to veterans some of the benefits restored to them through the recent legislation enacted by congress.

The service commissioner, who will be in Monroe and West Monroe for two days and nights April 30 and May 1, has announced his complete itinerary for this section as follows:

Monday, April 23.—Jena, 9 a. m. to 10 a. m.; Ferriday, 10:30 a. m. to 2 p. m.; St. Joseph, 3 p. m. to 5 p. m.; Wednesday, April 25.—Tallulah, 9 a. m. to noon; Lake Providence, 1:30 p. m. and overnight.

Thursday, April 26.—Oak Grove, all day and overnight.

Friday, April 27.—Delhi, 9 a. m. to noon; Crowley, 1:30 p. m. to 4 p. m.; Rayville, overnight.

Saturday, April 28.—Bastrop, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Monday, April 30.—Monroe, all day and overnight; Tuesday, May 1, Monroe, 9 a. m. to noon; West Monroe, 1 p. m. and overnight.

Wednesday, May 2.—Columbia, 9:30 a. m. to 1 p. m.; Tullos, 2 p. m. to 4 p. m.

AT THE MOVIES

AT THE PARAMOUNT—Edward G. Robinson discovered a new form of amusement during the production of his latest First National picture, "Dark Hazard," now showing at the Paramount theater. It is ad libbing on a wild sound track recording crowd noises. The wild sound track records the noises of a crowd of extras, but because of the overlapping of sound no individual words are distinguishable. Director Alfred E. Green was astonished during a crowd scene to see Robinson talking away like a rapid fire orator.

"What's all that noise for," he demanded of the actor.

"Well," said Eddie, "that is the only time on a set where I can say what I think myself, so I am taking advantage of it. At other times I can only say what the script calls for. Besides it exercises my voice."

AT THE CAPITOL—Beautiful Dolores Del Rio enacts the most thrilling romance ever experienced by a girl, in RKO-Radio Pictures' musical extravaganza, "Flying Down to Rio." Showing for the last times today at the Capitol theater.

Loved by two handsome screen heroes, Gene Raymond as an American and Raul Roulien as a Latin-American, she is first virtually kidnapped by Raymond who soars aloft with her in his "flying piano" and woos her with original compositions. Later she is spirited aloft by Roulien, but Raymond gets aboard the same plane; and in the climax Roulien is bested at love and Dolores and Raymond are married far above the clouds by the plane's pilot.

The production is enacted by an all-star cast, including Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire, celebrated idol of New York and London, and a chorus of 200 beauties, selected from 10,000 applicants.

Thornion Freeland directed, Vincent Youmans wrote the music, Edward Eliscu and Gus Kahn the lyrics, Ann Caldwell the screen play and Lou Brock, supervisor, contributed the original story.

Mutual Insurance Held Invalid For State Bodies

BATON ROUGE, La., April 13.—(AP)—Approving the award of fire insurance contracts within the discretion of police juries, school boards and boards of supervisors of state institutions, a ruling holding constitutional participation in mutual insurance by public bodies has been announced here by Attorney General Gaston L. Porter.

The ruling held that the boards might let insurance contracts after advertisement, or apportion it to local agents, or give the total to one agent if the rates did not exceed the Louisiana rating and fire insurance bureau's schedule, but declared that state and public bodies could not participate in mutual insurance.

Participation in the mutual assessment plan, Porter said, because of impossibility of predicting the cost, prevented inclusion in the budget and pre-paying of taxes to cover the expense.

Grant For Transient Aid In Texas Is Announced

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(AP)—A grant of $193,000 for April transient relief in Texas was made today by Harry L. Hopkins, the federal relief administrator.

Other grants included: Mississippi, $22,000 for April transient relief; Georgia, $48,000 for April transient relief; Alabama, $53,000 for April transient relief; Texas, $193,000 for April transient relief.

The grants were made as 12 state directors of transient relief went into conference here on a plan for a more uniform method of handling transient relief problems, with state relief administrations assuming responsibility.

Neville Junior Hi-Y Is Invited To Meet Ouachita

An invitation to meet with the Junior Hi-Y club of Ouachita parish high school was extended to Neville Junior Hi-Y club by Sam Walker, president of the Ouachita group, at the meeting of the Neville club Thursday night. The meeting date was fixed for 7:30 o'clock on the night of May 2, on DeSiard street.

Fred Williamson, the principal speaker, gave a talk on "Integrity." Mrs. Blanche Oliver gave several musical selections and told a story.

Barry Stubbs, president, had charge of the program. Marion Wene and R. C. White will have charge of the program next week.

2 Men Arrested Here For Alleged Theft Of Drill

Two men were being held for investigation by Monroe police Friday after they had been arrested when found in possession of an electric drill believed to be stolen, Superintendent of Police L. V. Tarver said.

The men gave their names as Frank Hagan 24, of Port Arthur, Texas, and Ray Fletcher, 24, of Sikes, La.

Hagan is an ex-convict of the Louisiana state prison, Mr. Tarver said. He served a term there for burglary. Officers believe the drill, which is a Black and Decker product with serial number 6065P, was stolen in West Monroe, or between here and Ruston.

An unemployment census in Utah showed children under 16 years of age made up 43 per cent of the relief rolls.

SLUGGING ISSUE ENLIVENS RACE

Wilson Denies That He Witnessed Boudreaux Black-Jacking

BATON ROUGE, La., April 13.—(AP)—A man got hit over the head in 1932—and they've made it a lively issue in the sixth district congressional race in which five candidates will go to the post Tuesday.

Joseph Boudreaux was walking out of the state capitol when he was mysteriously slugged. There was a big hurrah about it because Boudreaux was an anti-Huey P. Long worker, and the legislature was in session.

Louis Jones, a highway commission officer, was subsequently charged with the attack, convicted and sentenced to a prison term. He was immediately reprieved by Governor O. K. Allen.

That was ancient history, as politics go, but Judge Nat Tyler of Tangipahoa (they call him the fighting judge there) took the stump and charged that Agricultural Commissioner Harry D. Wilson, a congressional candidate, had witnessed the capitol assault, but had not appeared as a witness in court against Jones.

Wilson quickly denied that he had witnessed the slugging. A listener at one of his meetings jumped up to ask if he would give his permission for Charles P. Manship, Baton Rouge publisher, to make public a conversation he had had with Wilson. The candidate agreed.

Manship then issued a statement saying that Wilson had called him to his office the day after the attack and had related its details to him. In an address at Covington last night Wilson denied that he had actually witnessed the slugging. "The facts are," he said, "that I did not see who hit Boudreaux and never said that I did to Mr. Manship or anybody else and any statement to the contrary is utterly false and untrue."

Meanwhile, J. Y. Sanders, Jr., who figured in the sensational dual elections with Mrs. Bolivar E. Kemp, in which both were refused seats by the national house, carried his campaign through the parishes charging that Wilson was supported by Senator Long's organization. That, also, Wilson denied. Still another candidate, Murphy Sylvest, was telling his listeners that Sanders was an opportunist seeking office to get control of federal patronage and questioned the motives which prompted Sanders to oppose Mrs. Kemp.

Radium, Kas., the state's newest incorporated city, hosted the number of such communities in Kansas to $80.

FROZEN DEPOSITS ARE RELEASED BY BANK AT BASTROP

Funds Tied Up In Closed Institution Are Now Available

BASTROP, La., April 13.—(Special)

—Announcement that all frozen deposits in the old Bastrop State Bank and Trust company have been released and are now available to depositors was made Thursday by the Bastrop Bank and Trust company, which took over the assets and liabilities of the old bank when it closed on April 11, 1933. The new bank was reorganized and opened two weeks later and exactly one year after the old bank closed the frozen deposits were released. Arrangements to release the deposits were made Wednesday but public announcement was withheld until Thursday.

This makes available to people in this community a total of $460,152.71 which was frozen at the time when the old bank was closed. The release of these funds was made possible by the purchase by the Reconstruction Finance corporation at Washington of $100,000 of capital debentures of the Bastrop Bank and Trust company.

Two weeks after the old Bastrop State Bank and Trust company closed on April 11, 1933, the reorganization was perfected and the new bank, the Bastrop Bank and Trust company, opened and immediately made available a small portion of the frozen deposits and issued certificates of deposit due on or before April 26, 1937. All of these deposits are released and available now, the announcement of the Bastrop bank stated.

With the purchase by the Reconstruction Finance corporation of $100,000 capital debentures, the Bastrop Bank and Trust company now ranks among the strongest and soundest financial institutions in this section of the nation. The capital and surplus of the bank, including the $100,000 capital debentures purchased by the RFC is now $155,000. The undivided profits of the bank is $10,846.50 and the reserve is $87,477.38.

Officers of the Bastrop Bank and Trust company are Geo. T. Madison, president; W. B. Gladney, vice-president; H. Webb Madison, cashier and Miss Evie Dalton, Jr., assistant cashier. Directors are Geo. T. Madison, W. B. Gladney, C. N. Dalton, J. T. Dalton, Jr., J. W. Brodnax, J. Leland Howard, James Madison, Sampson Snyder, S. Alvin Leopold, F. A. Terzia, Sr., and C. J. Goodwin.

Lida Benton Cub Pack Meets Wednesday Night

A meeting of the cub pack sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association of Lida Benton school was held Wednesday night at the school, G. W. Simpson, executive of the Ouachita Valley Boy Scout council, who attended, said Thursday.

The organization of a cub "den" with Billy Gannaway of Scout Troop 37 as "den master" was completed. Graves Hundley and Bobbie Tarkenton, Scouts of Troop 34, were present. They will be in charge of other "dens" to be formed.

Among the visitors who attended the meeting and participated in the discussions were H. Stein, cubbing committeeman; P. S. Mulhearn, council cubbing chairman; Miss Madie Moore, principal of the school; Mrs. C. E. Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Cornett.

The next meeting of the cub pack is to be held at the school at 4:30 p. m. Monday.

RED CROSS MEETING
The monthly meeting of the local chapter of the American Red Cross was being held at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon at Red Cross headquarters at 105 North Fourth street.

Users Of Luzianne Coffee Are Offered Silver Plate Sets

Three miniature vouchers and a nominal cash payment are all that is needed to start a collection of Peerless Silver Plate, offered by the William B. Reilly & Co., Inc., manufacturers of Luzianne coffee. Illustrated wrapper on each set of the six spoons received tells how to get a complete set of knives, forks, tablespoons, etc. Peerless Silver Plate is made and guaranteed by "Oneida Community, Ltd." makers of Community plate.

These new vouchers are placed in all cans of Luzianne coffee, one to each one pound and three in each three-pound pail. They are in the form of miniature coffee cans—in full color and are made to stack like cards which makes them easy to save. Considerable comment has been noticed among the housewives with these pretty miniatures, and every housewife should watch for hers in every can of Luzianne; they are valuable. Grocers who have not yet become acquainted with the silverware offer should do so at once... the offer will run only for a limited time.

Traffic Is Delayed On River Bridge Yesterday

Traffic moving from West Monroe across the river bridge yesterday at noon was delayed for at least 15 minutes when a large highway truck towing a road grader struck an iron upright at the west end of the bridge and was unable to move. Motorists were left to shift for themselves, as no police officer appeared on the scene to direct the traffic. It was stated, until the truck had moved on. J. C. Cobb, chief of West Monroe police, said that immediately after he was notified of the traffic jam he dispatched an officer to the scene.

Cub Pack Is Planned At Ruston Grammar School

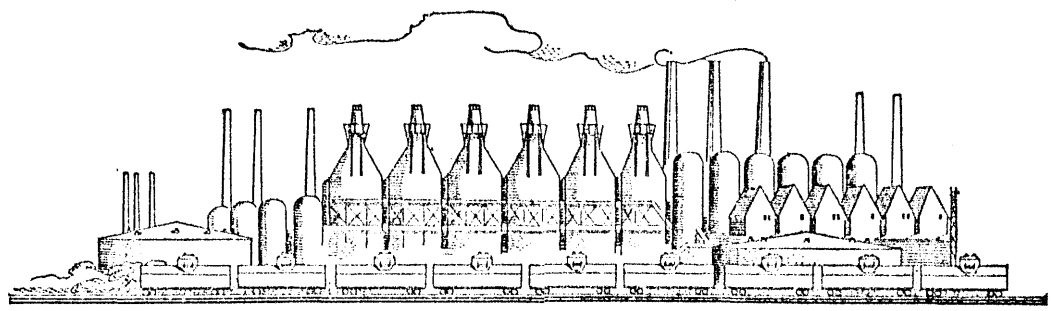

G. W. Simpson, executive of the Ouachita Valley Boy Scout council, returned here Wednesday night from Ruston where he addressed members of the Parent-Teacher association of the Jefferson grammar school Wednesday afternoon on the aims of cubbing and outlined work necessary for formation of a cub pack which the association has agreed to sponsor. The members of the association appointed a committee to form plan for the cub organization. A. C. Lea was named as cub master for the proposed pack.

1904 • A GOOD OIL THEN • • • A GREAT OIL NOW • 1934

TODAY YOU MAY BUY A NEW HAVOLINE

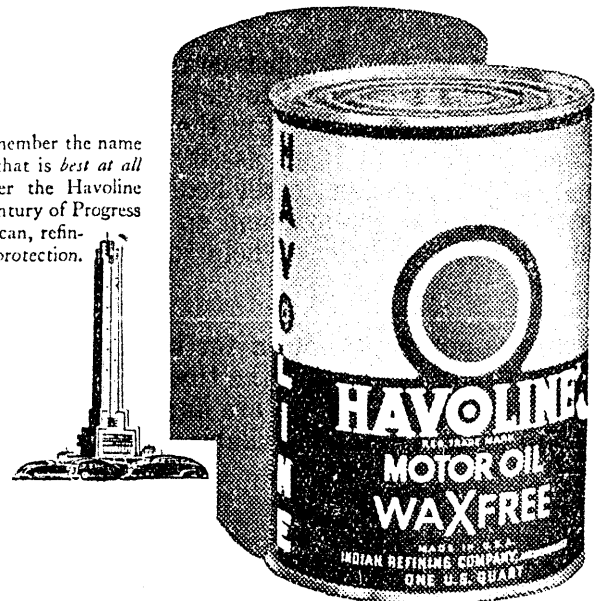

... A GREAT MOTOR OIL THAT BRINGS YOU SAFER, SURER LUBRICATION

YOU have probably known Havoline ever since you shifted your first gears. For thirty years Havoline has been one of America's fine motor oils. But today there is a new Havoline—a great new oil that is far ahead of the better oils of today. With all the good old Havoline quality—and something added. Now this great new oil is ready for your car—to lubricate it better; to bring you smoother motor performance, greater gasoline mileage, smaller repair bills—and a new thrill in motoring!

Our scientists and engineers have developed in this new oil what they consider the practically perfect lubricant. It is the product of a new, patented process of solvent refining—a process which removes non-lubricating elements that, till now, have stubbornly resisted extraction by any method. This process removes thick, gummy, tar-forming substances naturally present in even the finest crudes—and remaining in lubricating oils that are refined by ordinary processes.

So now—Havoline is Tarfree. Add that to the fact that Havoline is also Waxfree—the first paraffin-base oil from which all harmful wax has been removed—and you will realize that something important has happened in the motor-oil world. We know you will like it. So ask for it today. All Texaco Stations have it—and better dealers everywhere. If it is in this can, you may be sure it is the new Havoline.

INDIAN REFINING Co., Indianapolis, Ind. (Affiliated with The Texas Company)

When you want to remember the name of the great new oil that is best at all temperatures, remember the Havoline Thermometer at A Century of Progress—and remember this can, refinery-sealed for your protection.

First WAXFREE Now TARFREE Sold by better dealers throughout the country and at all Texaco Stations

YOUR DEALER CAN SUPPLY YOU WITH THE NEW HAVOLINE. IF HE DOES NOT ALREADY HAVE IT, ASK HIM TO GET IT!

His son, James. The band played "Hail To The Chief."

Just after that the president said he was "very glad to see you all" and thanked the members of congress for coming to welcome him.

Continuing, he said he expected to get publicity on the fish he caught off the coast of Florida but there had been too much competition because "you people have been going from Wirt to Wirt." This also brought a laugh from the crowd.

"Newspapermen on the train coming up," Mr. Roosevelt said, "have been trying to get me to say that I hoped congress would soon adjourn."

"But I wouldn't say it, because I hope you can stay just as long as you like to."

"To you younger men I want to point out from years of experience in Washington the advantages of the Washington climate. In July and August it rarely gets above 110 degrees and there is absolutely no humidity."

This ironical statement also brought a laugh.

The president added that "I don't mind if you stay all summer."

Becoming serious, he spoke again of having had a wonderful time on his vacation and expressed regret that the members could not be with him during those two weeks of rest.

He said that he was coming back "with all sorts of lessons I learned from barracudas and sharks and I'm a tough guy."

He concluded smilingly, inviting the members to come and see him as soon as they could and told them "I will teach you some of the tricks I learned."

With that, the president walked to the automobile which took him to the White House.

In addition to the members of the senate and house, there were several members of the cabinet in the welcoming party, including Secretaries Hull and Morgenthau and Postmaster General Farley.

Outside the station to greet the president was a crowd estimated by police at 3,000.

A few Republicans joined with many of the Democratic members in an informal reception to the returning chief executive as his train pulled into union station.

Almost 200 members of the house marched to the station behind the band and a police escort and were joined there by more than a score of senators, including two Republicans, LaFollette of Wisconsin and Nye of North Dakota.

Gathering at the house side of the capital an hour before train time, many of the Democratic leaders had made brief addresses while the parade was being assembled.

The march was in rows of four, except for the first rank which included Speaker Rainey, Representative Byrns of Tennessee, the Democratic leader; Representative Greenwood of Indiana, Democratic whip; Representative Cullen of New York, assistant Democratic whip, and Representative Sabath, Illinois Democrat.

All save Rainey wore topcoats as a protection against the chill wind.

The white haired speaker, however, with a red carnation in his lapel and a cigar in his mouth, disdained the protection the others felt they needed.

Among those marching who were not Democrats were Representatives Welch, Republican, California; Lambertson, Republican, Kansas; and Magnus Johnson, Farm-Labor, Minnesota.

Most Democratic chairmen of important committees were in the line-up, including Doughton of North Carolina, ways and means; McReynolds of Tennessee, foreign affairs; and Vinson of Georgia, naval affairs.

Forbidden Valley

by William Byron Mowery

SYNOPSIS: Sonya Volkov, who has undergone incredible hardships to reach and kill Igor Karakhan, tells him she knows he was responsible for the deaths of her father and brother. Meanwhile Curt Tennyson, who loves Sonya and wants to bring Karakhan to justice for his many crimes, is told by Sonya that her father has failed him by not having Curt's ambition at the appointed rendezvous. Sonya is alone with Karakhan in his wilderness cabin.

Chapter 43
FAILURE

SONYA's voice broke. For a moment she seemed on the verge of going to pieces. But she steadied herself, dashed the tears from her eyes; and her right hand crept inside her blouse.

It was genuinely news to Karakhan that her two menkin had been put to death by the secret police. He had indeed sent them to Vladivostok with forged papers on a nonexistent deal, as she said; and he had written the police anonymously that they were coming, so that they would be arrested.

In the critical days just before he cashed in on his huge swindle, the Soviet agents had become suspicious that something was wrong in their trading with western Canada; but by pointing their suspicions at the Volkov men and sending those two across to the Siberian port, he had gained time to close out his affairs and vanish.

"I can't imagine what you're talking about," he denied, not in any hope of shaking Sonya's knowledge, but to win a few minutes and adjust himself to this stupifying turn. He had not failed to notice her right hand sliding into her blouse. It was claspng a gun, the gun she intended to kill him with.

"You didn't send them over to Vladivostok, did you?" Sonya asked him.

"You didn't inform the police privately that father and Carl were the ones who were posing as government officials? You didn't cover your own thieving operations by turning suspicion to them?"

"An old refugee who lives in Vladivostok and used to know my father, found out about it and wrote me from Harbin. Their business associates don't know it, even now. The police don't know a whisper about their death." She made a gesture of contempt at the stumbling ineptitude of the police.

IN the face of death, the nearest that death had ever brushed him, Karakhan was shaken with a cringing terror. He was at her mercy, and she had no mercy.

"Sonya, I'm sorry about your father and brother." In a frantic effort to stave off his doom, he seized upon almost any plea. "Won't you let me explain exactly the extent of my guilt?"

He folded his hands behind his back, apparently as a show of helplessness, but his fingers closed over the iron-tipped ski staff against the wall. Even so, he dared not move. Sonya held only a second's advantage, but for him that second was the difference between life and death.

"Let you explain your guilt?" she met his plea. "Anything can be explained. Judas explained. And so did Pontius Pilate." Her hand came out of her blouse gripping a small black automatic.

Karakhan deliberately looked past her, at the window behind. With a superb control of his expression, he carried her over to the bunk, tied her hands and feet securely with things ripped from his snowshoes, and gagged her with his kerchief. He did not want her screaming when she came to; it would let those others know that he was getting away from there.

He watched her eyes flicker open. She stared up at him, not yet fully comprehending; then glanced about the cabin. When she looked back to him again, he saw the realization come into her eyes that her hunt had ended in a horrible failure.

She broke out in an insane violence. She struggled to tear the cords from her wrists and ankles. She flung herself off the bunk and tried to roll toward the little automatic by the stove. Karakhan seized her. She writhed and fought him, but his greater strength prevailed, and by degrees her violence exhausted her, till her struggles became pitifully weak. He carried her back to the bunk and lashed her upon it.

They stared at each other, Sonya defiant, Karakhan enjoying his sense of mastery.

"So you came here to kill me, sweetheart," he said, in Russian. "I should have known. But better late than never. Now what shall I do to you in return, before I go away from here? You are thinking I will harm you. Not at all. Instead, I am going to allow you your freedom. In short, I am going to leave you here."

He paused to enjoy the effect of his words upon Sonya. He watched the blood ebb from her face, saw a terror come into her eyes in place of her defiance a few moments ago.

"You won't lack attention, little one," he added, with a wolfish smile on his mouth. "LeNolr and the Indian will be fighting over you in an hour from now. You probably would prefer LeNolr, but personally I think the Indian will win—he has a whole clan behind him. But either way, sweetheart, it will be a long, long time before you see a white face again."

Smash's return, tomorrow, brings a further danger.

their employees also were excepted. Most of these exceptions were independent shops not affiliated with the manufacturers association.

The strike was called by the Mechanics Educational Society of America, the tool and die workers union which claims 22,000 members in the Detroit area.

General Secretary Matthew J. Smith claims the society has 5,000 tool and die workers in the job shops but not all of these are included in the walkout due to negotiation of satisfactory agreements in some cases.

Police said this morning there had been no violence as picketing started. Industrial circles appeared much less concerned today over the tool and die job shop strike than a general undercurrent of unrest in the ranks of labor in the heart of the motor industry.

Evidence of this unrest was seen in some quarters in the scheduling of a meeting Sunday in Pontiac of several locals of the United Automobile Workers, American Federation of Labor affiliate. William Collins, chief organizer of the federation in the auto industry denied, however, that there was anything unusual in the meeting.

New developments also included the direct demand to manufacturers by Pontiac locals asking a 30-hour, five-day week with a minimum wage of 60 cents for unskilled labor. This overture was noteworthy in that it ignored the national automobile labor board, the subject of apparently increasing disfavor in labor circles.

Spokesmen for both sides of the labor dispute were increasingly reluctant to discuss the situation, but appeared agreed this morning on these points:

The tool and die strike coming at a slack period in its season will not seriously affect automobile production which is now running at a peak not equaled in several years.

A more general tool and die strike would not seriously affect automobile production but would throw out of employment enough workers to create an aggravating labor problem socially and economically.

The chief danger in the tool and die strike lies in the possibility that its example may cause a general outbreak of labor troubles so far kept in subjection through timely mediation that appears to be losing effectiveness.

ers limped away before the ambulance surgeons could get to them. Eight persons were arrested.

Detectives said known Reds led some of the groups of rioters.

The anti-war movement, described as nation-wide, gave authorities of many colleges some anxious moments, for they feared other clashes.

One hundred students met in New York under the banner of the student anti-war week to plan meetings. They said they were from Columbia, New York university, Hunter college, City college, Brooklyn college and other institutions. The call for the "strike" in New York and elsewhere went out from the Student League for Industrial Democracy and the National Student League.

Dean Morton D. Gottshall of City college warned that students cutting classes would suffer the usual penalties. The acting dean at Columbia college said he would remain neutral.

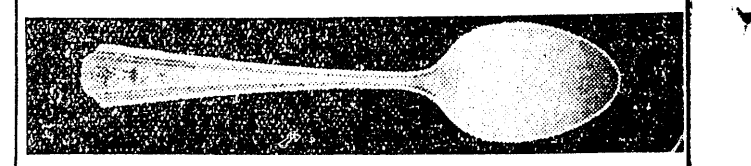

About 30 students at Massachusetts State college were said to plan an hour's walkout today. Girls at Smith college decided on an evening meeting in the Undergraduates at Johns Hopkins called for a strike at Springfield college in Massachusetts. 21 white crosses dotted the lawn as an anti-war protest.

The students at Haverford college, Pa., were at war over peace. One group sent word to President Roosevelt that it would not fight "in any war." Another said it would "uphold the good judgment of the government" in case of war.

The increasing work of scripture publication and distribution in Japan caused the American Bible society to build a new Bible house in Tokyo.

Deposits Released

The Bastrop State Bank & Trust Company closed April 11, 1933, and two weeks later this bank was organized. The Bastrop Bank & Trust Company, the newly organized bank, made available immediately a small portion of the deposits of the former bank, and assumed the obligation of paying off the remaining portion of deposits but only at a later date. It issued for these deferred deposits its certificates of deposit due on or before April 26, 1937. It gives us a great deal of pleasure now to announce that the DEPOSITS represented by these deferred certificates ARE NOW AVAILABLE.

In instances where for any reason we hold in our possession the certificate of deposit, we have already credited either the checking or savings account with the amount of the certificate and have so notified the depositor. Those who have their certificates in their possession are requested to present them to us.

The release of these deposits has been made possible primarily through the cooperation and financial assistance of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, an agency of the United States Government, which has purchased $100,000.00 of capital debentures. This simply means $100,000.00 of additional protection to our depositors.

Our deposits are insured under the plan provided in the United States Banking Act of 1933, which same plan is now in effect in nearly all the banks in the United States. The $100,000.00 put into the bank by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation plus the insurance under the United States Banking Act of 1933, gives all our depositors ample protection and makes their deposits in this bank safe. The additional capital also puts us in a position to make loans in our community which are eligible banking loans.

We wish to express our thanks to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for its advice and financial assistance; to the State Banking Commissioner of Louisiana and his assistants for their help and counsel; the Home Owners' Loan Corporation for assistance in refinancing our mortgages on homes; the various public bodies of Morehouse Parish and Bastrop for their cooperation, and to all our directors, stockholders and friends who have been of help to us during the past year.

We wish most of all to express our appreciation for the patience and consideration shown by our depositors during the time they have been caused inconvenience by our reorganization and are happy, indeed, that we are now able to make all their deposits available to them in full.

short periods, had been a continuous resident of Monroe since that time.

At the time Mr. Awl came to Monroe this city had a population of about 250. When he became old enough, Mr. Awl learned the brick-making trade near the site of the Confederate monument in the Monroe cemetery.

When the Civil war broke out Mr. Awl enlisted first as a volunteer courier and later with the First Trans-Mississippi cavalry, which saw service in Arkansas, Indian Territory (now Oklahoma) and many other places.

At 19 Mr. Awl was married to Miss Martha Louise Callum, who died about 10 years ago today.

Mr. Awl was a charter member of the Eastern Star lodge, was a member of the Western Star and was a Royal Arch Mason. He had the reputation of being one of the best versed men in Masonry in the entire state. He was also a member of the First Methodist church.

Surviving are two children, Mrs. W. H. Gibbs and Sam H. Awl; four grandchildren, Henry Gibbs, E. B. Gibbs and William B. Awl, all of Monroe, and Mrs. Roy Brice of Arcadia, and four great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the residence, with interment following in the old city cemetery, with Rev. W. C. Scott, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Masons will have charge of the services at the grave.

RUSSIAN AVIATORS SAVE CASTAWAYS

102 Soviet Citizens Marooned On Floating Ice Rescued

MOSCOW, April 13.—(P)—Soviet aviators, after weeks of hardships and misadventure, have succeeded in rescuing 102 Russian castaways from their two months experiences on floating Arctic ice.

Flying through polar storms and effecting landings on a precarious ice floe, aviators brought the last six members of the Cheliuskin expedition to Cape Van Kahem last night. Altogether, 100 persons, including ten women and two children, have been rescued since April 7. An aviator and mechanic had reached the mainland in their own plane.

Those rescued were members of a Wrangel island expedition which was aboard the steamer Cheliuskin when it sank February 13. The commander of the Wrangel expedition, Professor Otto Schmidt, was taken earlier this week to Nome, Alaska, by plane for treatment. It was feared he might have pneumonia.

Fifteen others have been sent by dog team to Cape Wilen, whence they will be taken to Providence Bay and placed aboard a steamer for Krabarovsk or Vladivostok. The remaining ones will be brought back as rapidly as facilities permit.

The perils of the castaways were described by M. Ushakov, one of a score or more of Russian aviators who took part in the rescue.

"When I arrived at the camp (April 7), surrounded by floating ice blocks, the Cheliuskiners were living in heated log barracks. But despite their reasonably comfortable quarters they

CONFUSION ENDED ON BRAN

New Ruling Makes Labels Accurate

To protect the buying public, the United States Food and Drug Administration has advised that every package of cereal labeled "Bran" state on the label exactly what it contains.

Before this ruling, even part-bran products were sometimes mistakenly referred to as "Bran." It was not easy for the purchaser to distinguish between a cereal that was entirely bran, or all bran with flavoring, and another that was mostly wheat.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is labeled "ALL-BRAN Deliciously Flavored with Malt, Sugar and Salt," a statement which describes the product fairly and honestly.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN has won millions of friends because it corrects most types of common constipation safely and pleasantly. It furnishes generous "bulk"—needed to promote normal elimination.

However, ALL-BRAN is not a "cure-all." Certain types of intestinal disorders should be treated only on a physician's advice.

When you buy a bran cereal, for the relief of constipation, read the wording on the package. The facts are there! Make sure by asking for Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It furnishes "bulk" in a form for satisfactory results.

rested as if on the slope of a volcano. "The camp was faced with constant dangers. On April 9 drifting icebergs bore down on the camp with tremendous noise, crashing ice and destroying the barracks and a motor boat.

"They wrecked a landing field under the airplane of the flier Slepneff, who had damaged a strut in landing two days before. The plane was moved safely, however, to a new landing field.

"The whole party displayed courage and fortitude."

BINSTOCK ADDRESSES LOCAL ROTARY CLUB

Rabbi Louis Binstock of New Orleans spoke before the Rotary club at its regular meeting Thursday noon in Hotel Virginia. In addition to the regular membership, a large number of guests were present to hear the distinguished speaker, who took for his theme, "The Larger Life," developed from the episodes of the famous play, "Craig's Wife."

"They who live to themselves," said Rabbi Binstock, "will be left to themselves. One of the greatest hindrances to the achievement of happiness in life today is the false conception of men and women that they can live a life wholly to themselves and within themselves. That way lies stagnation and failure. The richest life is that which gives itself to others. It is true of races, peoples and nations, just as it is true of individuals. The group or the community which has no concern for anything but its own circumscribed interests can never get far, because 'no man liveth or dieth to himself.'"

Prior to the introduction of Rabbi Binstock the Rotary club elected delegates to the forthcoming annual district conference at Alexandria on Thursday and Friday, April 19 and 20. The delegates are: Claude Harrison, C. E. Kenney, Joe Washburn; alternates, Leon Hammonds, Ted Riley, O. A. Evans.

Camp Training Course To End This Weekend

The final session of the troop camp training session for Boy Scout leaders and troop officers of the Ouachita Valley council will be held this weekend at Camp Ki-Ro-Li, G. W. Simpson, executive, announced Thursday. The period will begin at 1:30 p.m. Saturday and continue until noon Sunday.

An average of 30 men have attended the other three sessions, one of which was held at the camp and two others at St. Matthew's parochial school.

A faculty of Scout leaders, well versed in the various phases of camp training has given the instruction at the various periods, which total 50 hours, including the final session.

Mr. Simpson urged those who have attended the other sessions to attend the week-end meeting. He said that a number of the "students" will be entitled to receive national council training certificates, provided they have been in attendance at a majority of the sessions.

Children's Story Hour Slated Here Saturday

The regular Saturday morning children's story hour, sponsored by the Barker-Paulk American Legion post and auxiliary, will be held at the Monroe public library at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning.

In addition to the story telling, a book character project is to be worked out by the children in attendance.

The winners in the recent story book house contest will be announced at the close of the session. Children are invited to attend the meeting.

FOOD CODE GROUP MEETING PLANNED

Steps Will Be Taken Toward Naming Fifth District Authority

Further steps toward naming a code authority for food distributors of the fifth congressional district, including 14 northern Louisiana parishes, will be taken at a meeting Friday night at 7:30. The meeting was called by

L. L. Langford, who has been named as representative of the food distributors, pending the appointment of a code authority, and will be attended by a committee made up of representatives of the different food distributing branches.

Representatives of some of the major branches in food distribution include Clark Faulk, retail grocer; E. M. Stoen, chain-owned wholesalers; B. B. Martin, cash and carry stores. One of the principal purposes of the meeting will be to make arrangements for a mass meeting of all food distributors in the fifth district. There are hundreds of wholesale and retail food distributors in the area and the merchants to be regulated under this code authority will constitute one of the largest code groups in this section of the state.

Leaders of the movement to establish a code authority face the task of making a list of the food distributors and of serving notice on them in regard to the date of the mass meeting. Adherence to code regulations will be compulsory when the authority has been established. Wholesale concerns will be allowed to sell only to retail establishments complying with the code and wholesale concerns which do not comply will not be allowed to receive interstate shipments.

Code groups established or to be established in this section include retail establishments, other than those handling food and drugs, shoe repair men, food distributors, druggists, barbers, lumber dealers, hotel men, paper bag manufacturers, newspapers, print shops and several others.

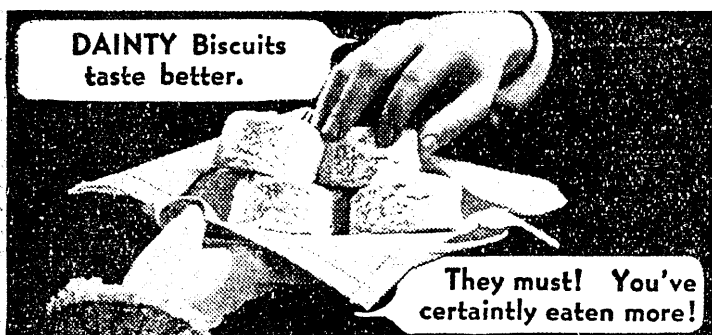

Hotels, newspapers, bag manufacturers, print shops, retail concerns and lumber dealers are already operating under codes and some of the other groups have about perfected their organizations.

Although only 28 years of age, Mrs. W. C. Westbrook of New Bern, N. C., is a grandmother.

"Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?" is the subject of the lesson-lesson in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, April 15.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-lesson is the following from the Bible: "Sing, O daughter of Zion; shout, O Israel; be glad and rejoice with all the heart. O daughter of Jerusalem, the Lord hath taken away thy judgments, he hath cast out thine enemy; the king of Israel, even the Lord, is in the midst of thee; thou shalt not see evil any more" (Zeph. 3).

The lesson-lesson also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Sin, sickness, and death are comprised in human material belief, and belong not to the divine Mind. They are without a real origin or existence. They have neither principle nor permanence, but belong, with all that is material and temporal, to the nothingness of error, which simulates the creations of truth." (P. 285).

WHAT THE CHURCH IS
It is a teacher, giving knowledge to the ignorant. It is an evangelist, bringing the good news to the lost. It is an altar, where God and His people meet. It is a servant, working for all. It is a minister, helping all who need. It is a co-operator, doing team work with school and home. It is a unit, making a neighborhood into a community. ERA Forces Opening New West Side Ditches

Two large drainage ditches are being opened in West Monroe with labor furnished through the ERA. An eight-foot ditch is being dug from the intersection of Austin and Fifth streets to the bayou near Anderson Clayton company's warehouse. In the north end of town a ditch is being opened along King street and the north end of Seventh street.

ERA forces recently completed extensive improvements in Major McGuire park in West Monroe, draining cleaning and otherwise improving the grounds. This site is now one of the Children's Theater To Meet Saturday Afternoon

The members of the children's theater will hold their regular weekly meeting at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of the St. Francis sanitarium, Mae Gillette, publicity chairman, said Friday.

Three plays are being cast and rehearsals held by the children. Plans are being considered for a one-act play. Members of the theater attending six consecutive meetings are entitled to attendance pins and several of the children are striving for that honor.

A QUICK ONE for the mixing bowl—its action set free by liquid. It starts the leavening properly.

A SLOWER ONE for the oven—its action set free by heat. It holds your batter high and light all through the baking.

That's why your baking is bound to be better with Calumet's Double-Action!

First Action—in the mixing bowl

Second Action—in the oven heat

Chocolate Fudge Loaf... The cake of cakes for everyone—and Calumet's Double-Action makes it velvet-fine!

(1 egg)
2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
2 squares Baker's Unsweetened Chocolate, melted
3/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift together three times. Cream butter thoroughly, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well; then chocolate and blend. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time. Beat after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in greased pan, 8 x 8 x 2 inches, in moderate oven (325° F.) 1 hour, or until done. Spread fudge frosting on top and sides of cake. (All measurements are level.)

Successful Southern League Baseball Season Is Expected

CLUB OPERATORS
FACE CAMPAIGN
WITH CONFIDENCEMartin Believes Baseball
Will Share Better
ConditionsEDITOR'S NOTE: John D. Martin, president of the Southern Association of Baseball clubs, reviews the Southern circuit's 1933 outlook in the following story, written for the Associated Press.By John D. Martin
MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 13.—(AP)—
Last year, Southern league club owners faced the opening of the baseball season with courage to stand the gaff, no matter how rough the going. It was rough enough.This year, our franchise operators welcome the renewal of the playing season, with confidence in a successful outcome. Any organization which survived 1933 will make the grade this year.Decreased attendance last season was due to no decline in the popularity of baseball, but was the direct result of general financial distress.The south has benefited immeasurably from the wise and generous treatment according to this section by our great president. Unquestionably, baseball will share in the general betterment of conditions.Our organization is intact. The old machine is hitting on all cylinders.
Four new spark plugs have replaced four discarded ones.Spencer Abbott, pennant winning manager extraordinary, has returned to the Southern with the avowed purpose of hoisting a pennant on the Atlanta flag pole, as high as he lifted the gonfalon at Memphis many years ago. Wherever Abbott goes, color radiates and pep permeates.Personable Zinn Beck, whose eagle eye has discovered successful ball players from Maine to California, has been promoted from scout to manager for Chattanooga. He may be in the Southern, as many new managers have done. He knows our territory too well.Paul Wanninger, with Louisville last season—a blue ribbon player in a blue grass field—may be expected, as manager at Knoxville, to develop a team that sparkles like mountain dew in the smokies.Already, Emmett McCann has brought joyful confidence to Little Rock. A class "AA" manager of proven worth at Indianapolis in 1932 and St.
Paul in 1933, he has all the makings for success in the Southern. Not least in importance, his baseball connections are strong.The four new managers will have to be good: for in facing in combat the three veteran musketeers of the Southern diamond—Larry Gilbert, Doc Prothro and Clyde Milan—they must truly fence with Athos, Porthos and Aramis. For more than a decade, Larry, Doc and Clyde have conducted a closed corporation in pennant production, penetrated only by Johnny Dobbs and Bert Niehoff, now no longer in the league.But young D'Artagnan, in the person of Charley Drensen, has challenged separately each of the three musketeers to a duel this season. He is a born battler, as proven by his game fight to recover from his serious illness last winter.Not a soft spot among them: There's a lot of managerial strength in the eight-club line-up. And don't forget that the men behind these guns are veteran baseball officials of seasoned experience.Atlanta proudly presents, as president, its beloved national character, Wilbert Robinson—scintillator of wit and sound of judgment. "Uncle Robby" will be ably assisted by hustling

Stoefen's Play Boosts
U. S. Davis Cup ChancesCalifornian Is Groomed
To Carry Burden In Trophy BattleBy Alan Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor)NEW YORK, April 13.—(AP)—Although our guiding tennis minds naturally are reluctant to admit it now for the obvious reason that their spring optimism of the last few years has proved to be premature, the fact is that the sensational singles performance of Lester Ralls Stoefen, the giant Californian, has revived Uncle Sam's hopes of lifting the Davis cup from England this summer.The seriousness with which this prospect now is being regarded, after experiencing a new "low" last year is indicated by the cautious step taken to keep Stoefen from going stale. The Californian's withdrawal from the Pinehurst tournament, on telegraphed advice from Holcombe Ward, chairman of the Davis cup committee, marks the beginning of organized measures.Stoefen is the answer to what America needs for the Davis cup challenge—a singles star who can perform with consistency. On the basis of his play so far this year, the blond youngster from the coast is our No. 1 singles performer now and fully equipped to fill the gap left by Ellsworth Vines. He looks to be more formidable than either Frank Shields, the top-ranking amateur of 1933, or Sidney
B. Wood, the players heretofore figured as the most likely singles chances.It would be highly optimistic to expect Stoefen to become another Til-den in his first Davis cup campaign but the Californian, if he can keep up his dazzling spring pace, will add unexpected strength to Uncle Sam's challenge.It is conceivable that Stoefen may tip the scales in favor of America by capturing at least one singles match.
Should he win two, in the inter-zone
as well as challenge play at Wimbledon, the classic cup would be just about as good as on its way back home, for the Americans consider the doubles team of George Lott and Wilmer Allison a "cinch" to beat any foreign combination.All this fancy reasoning leads obviously to the measures for keeping Stoefen from going stale. It will do the United States no good in Davis cup competition for the Californian to leave his best performances on the spring circuit. The big payoff will be this July on the historic turf of Wimbledon and our new board of Davis cup strategy, headed by Ward and Dick Williams, intends no repetition of the fiasco of 1933.Stoefen's showing in the singles probably means he will be relieved of responsibility in the doubles, although he and Lott now are holders of the national doubles championship.
Allison's days as a Davis cup singles player apparently being ended, his experience makes him a logical teammate for Lott. Allison and Lott know all the tricks of the doubles trade.Wood has not devoted as much time as our other hopefuls to the preliminaries of the season but he cannot be counted out of the singles picture until the candidates are put through their paces by Captain Williams at Philadelphia early in May.
Wood may give Shields a real battle for the No. 2 singles position, although the latter now appears the logical choice as a running mate for Stoefen.Stoefen's sensational play is only one of the several factors affecting this year's Davis cup outlook. The death of Jiro Satoh eliminates Japan as a serious threat and Australia's chances appear lessened by Jack Crawford's slump, which started when the Anzac ace lost to Fred Perry in the American singles final at Forest Hills last year. The result is that America now looks to be the one challenger with a chance to overthrow the ruling Britons.Bastrop Athletes Enter resented in the annual north Louisiana rally which will be held in Ruston

Friday and Saturday of next week.
April 20 and 21, according to an announcement by S. G. Lucky, principal of the school. At least a dozen students will enter various events in the rally.This week-end the annual tennis tournament will be played at the rally in Ruston and Bastrop will send three students to enter this tournament. The tennis players to represent Bastrop will be Harold Hudson, Glen Jackson and Miss Frances Pettis. Tennis players from all parts of north Louisiana will take part in the tournament.Harold Hudson will take part in the boys' singles and Miss Frances Pettis will enter in the girls' singles. Hudson and Jackson will enter the boys' dou-

Rainville And Martin
At PinhurstPINEHURST, N. C., April 13.—(AP)— Canada's Davis cup stars, Walter Martin and Marcel Rainville, were ushered out of the North and South tennis tournament Thursday as four of America's ranking players reached the semi-final round.Frank X. Shields, of New York, ranked first in this country and top seeded for the tournament, eliminated Martin in straight sets while Rainville won only five games while Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, turned him back.The other players advancing to Friday's semi-finals were Bryan Grant of Atlanta, and George Lott, Jr., of Chicago. The Atlanta required two and a half hours of tennis to beat the veteran J. Gilbert Hall, of South
Orange, N. J., 6-3, 1-6, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4.
Hall was volleying spectacularly, but Grant's ability to keep the ball in play finally decided the match.Lott eliminated Anthony Latona, of Washington, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, in a match that by agreement was limited to three sets.Grant will meet Shields in one semifinals match with Allison and Lott clashing in the other.Farmville Opens By Defeating SpearsvilleFARMVILLE, April 13.—(Special).—
The Farmville high school baseball team started the season off with a bang when they defeated the strong Spearsville team here Wednesday by a score of 8 to 7 after fighting uphill all the way to win in the ninth.With two out in the ninth and the bases filled by a hit and two walks, the Farmers scored four runs with the winning punch being delivered by Nolan.The batting of Lockwood was exceptional for the day for Spearsville when he slashed out three doubles.
The fielding of Audles of Farmville was outstanding.ROOKIES'

ALMOST READYAll But Two Bouts Completed For All-Star Show Here TuesdayAlthough the Shreveport amateur boxing team will not be available for a match with Monroe A. C. mittmen next Tuesday night, Charlie Bruscato, president of the local club, has lined up an excellent card for Roosevelt stadium fans, it was announced last night.In the feature bout of the program, Sam Jones, 137 pound local star, will battle Fort McNaughton, Rayville ace who defeated Jones for the championship in the Northeast Louisiana A.
A. U. tourney last year. Jones is anxious to wipe out that defeat, while McNaughton expects to prove that his victory was no fluke. Consequently, there should be plenty of action.Both boys are willing mixers and each packs a real wallop in each mitt.
Both have been training regularly for the past couple of weeks and should be in excellent shape for Tuesday's feature.In the semi-final, Mule Hooks, former Quachita parish high school football star, will meet an unnamed opponent. Bruscato said he hopes to sign a worthy foe for the Monroe boy, and promises a real scrap for the semi-final attraction. Hooks weighs 163 pounds.Another bout which should provide some fast action is that between Har-bert Sorey, 147 of Rayville, and Matais Coronado, of Mangham. Sorey was runner-up at the Tri-State mitt tournament at Shreveport, while Coronado is a fast Mexican who is said to be able to take plenty of punishment.The three main bouts will be five rounds of two minutes each. In a three rounder, Monroe McNaughton, of Rayville, will meet Harold Williams, of West Monroe. McNaughton has made an impressive record in amateur circles during the past two years. Another three round bout will feature Howard Earl, hard hitting Girard youngster, and another good boy who is yet to be signed.As a curtain raiser, two service station employees, George Smith, 139, of Central Service station, will meet
Robert Pope, 130, of Tidwell Sons. These two husky negroes are said to bear a grudge against each other and the fur should fly when they meet in the ring in their four round engagement.LESTER, TOPPING IN MASON-DIXON FINALWHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.
Va., April 13.—(AP)—Robert Lester of West Orange, N. J., and Daniel R.
Topping of Greenwich, Conn., will be the finalists Friday in the 1934
Mason and Dixon golf championship.Taking advantage of his opponent's disastrous second shots, Lester, one of the most handicapped golfers in the Metropolitan district, overhauled Robert
A. Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, 5 and 4, and Topping scored a one-sided victory over Arthur Lynch, of Mam-onock, N. Y., the co-medalist, 7 and 6.Lester, winner of the 1933 Sweetser cup tournament, played his characteristic methodical game in disposing of Stranahan, who in the early rounds of the championship eliminated two Mason-Dixon titleholders, Roof Gilson, Jackson, Mich., the defending champion, and E. G. Livesay, national left-handed champion.Stranahan virtually eliminated himself from the final by virtue of faulty second shots on five holes. In each instance his ball landed in a trap.
The Toledo golfer was two down at the turn and Lester became five up by winning the tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes in a row. Lester drove out of bounds to lose the 13th and quickly regained his form to win the 14th in par and end the match.Topping was out in 37 to be five up on Lynch, who showed signs of fatigue after two days of extra-hole matches. Lynch required 43 strokes for the outward nine. The match ended on the twelfth green where Lynch failed to negotiate a styne.Volley Ball Tourney To Be Held In West MonroeThe thirteenth annual elementary volley ball tournament will be held in West Monroe on the Crosley school campus Saturday, beginning at 8 a.m., and continuing throughout the day.Eighteen teams have entered, nine boys' teams and nine girls' teams. The following schools have entered both teams:
Swartz, Calhoun, Drew, Lapine, Che-niere, Okaloosa, Crosley, Fairbanks, and Eureka.The elimination games will be in the form of a round robin, each team playing all other teams a 15-point game. The four teams making the highest scores will play the semifinals. Winners will play for silver loving cups. Calhoun is the defender for the girls' cup. The boys' cup is new as Lapine won it last year for the third and last time and it then became the property of that school.A total of 75 games, with four courts in use at all time, will provide plenty of action and a large crowd is expected.The State Agricultural college of Florida receives a monthly average of 8,000 letters from farmers requesting

SHE TORE UP DEMPSEY'S SHIRT!

Jack Dempsey lost a ring battle at Alexandria, La., when 95-pound Mrs.
Johnny Plummer jumped through the ropes and tore up the former champion's shirt and pulled his hair. The trouble started when Dempsey, as referee of a wrestling match between Plummer and Bruce Noland, warned Plummer not to kick Noland. Finally the dispute reached the point where Dempsey swung three uppercuts to Plummer's chin—and Mrs. Plummer became enraged. Plummer and his wife are shown after the battle. (Associated

Of Ouachita Valley
Schedule SundayBASTROP, April 13.—(Special).—
The familiar cry of "Play Ball" will be heard in Bastrop Sunday when the 1934 baseball season will officially get under way insofar as Bastrop is concerned. Bastrop this year is a member of the Ouachita Valley Baseball league, an eight club circuit, composed of teams representing Bastrop, Sterling, Swartz, Fairbanks, Louisiana Training institute, Clarke, West Monroe and Ruston.Bastrop, West Monroe and Ruston are new members of the circuit this year, with Collinston having dropped out. Last year and for the past several years, Bastrop was a member of the Big Six League, but this year joined the Ouachita Valley league.
All plans have been completed for the baseball team in Bastrop this year and practice sessions have been held for the past couple of weeks. A number of men from last year are back and other new players have been added, and indications are that Bastrop will have a strong baseball team this year.The schedule consists of 42 games and a split season will be played. The season closes on August 23. The teams will play two games each week, on Wednesdays and Sundays.Bastrop opens the season Sunday playing the West Monroe club. The game will be played at Snyder Park will be inaugurated with the usual beginning at 3:30 o'clock. The season big league ceremonies, which will include the pitching of the first ball by Mayor J. R. Ludlum, C. C. Walton, chief of police, will receive the pitch from the mayor.Several valuable prizes will be given away to the fans attending the game, immediately after the contest.
The league is evenly balanced this year and a close race is expected for the pennant. The teams which com-prized the circuit last year have been materially strengthened and the new clubs rate on a par with the old members of the loop.The same rules which governed the league last year will be in effect this season, it was announced. Each club is allowed one "class" man.Teams Meet At Ferriday To Organize Ball LeagueFERRIDAY, April 13.—(Special).— Baseball managers of several neighboring cities met on Wednesday afternoon at the American Legion hall here for the purpose of organizing an independent baseball league in this section. Teams entering the league are: Waterproof, Clayton, Jonesville, Ferriday, Vidalia, and either Natchez, Miss. or Winnsboro.J. M. Skinner, an employee of the Missouri-Pacific railroad company at Ferriday, is organizing the league. He says that it is his wish that no team shall be allowed to hire more men than other clubs and that each team will be allowed a certain number of class men who have played in the Big Six league or higher. Announcement of the officers and a league schedule will be made at a later date.ROOKIE STARS AND CHUCK KLEIN MAY WIN FOR CHICAGOGrimm Expects New Combination To Improve Club's ChancesBy Charles J. Grimm (Manager, Chicago Cubs)CHICAGO, April 13.—(AP)—Strengthened in every department, I think the Chicago Cubs have a much improved club over the one we started with last year and certainly we are going into the 1934 National league race with every intention of winning.Of course the addition of Charles (Chuck) Klein, National league batting champion of 1933, to our outfield has helped a lot, but I also expect a great deal from the fine crop of youngsters which has come to us this spring.I believe the public would like to see some new faces on the Chicago Cubs' team and if these young fellows come through as I expect them to we will have a peppy club that will be hard to beat.In all my years in organized baseball I have never seen so many good-looking prospects among the rookies as we have this season. Usually a manager is lucky to find one good player in the bunch but early indications are we have three or four who are going to make the grade.Dick Ward, who led Pacific Coast league hurlers last year, certainly looks like the money. He has a fine change of pace—the best I have ever seen in a newcomer—and there apparently are no flaws in his delivery.
Bill Lee, another right hander who came to us from Columbus, also holds promise among the new pitchers.And then there are Ernie Phelps, a catcher; Augie Galan, infielder, and George (Tuck) Stainback, outfielder.
They're all promising youngsters who seem certain to stick.As for Klein, I don't take any stock in the talk that the short right field at Philadelphia was the answer to his remarkable hitting average of .368.
Frankly, I think he is the outstanding player in the league. I've seen him hit outside his own park with great results.My outfield is a puzzle and I have a lot of combinations worked out which are hard to explain on paper
—but any one of which should be effective.I have a great deal of faith in Floyd (Babe) Herman, and I think he will come back after his hitting slump of last year to pound the ball better than ever. If he does, one combination I have been considering strongly would put Babe at right field, Klein in center, with Riggs Stephenson and Stainback sharing left field, provided Tuck gets off on the right foot.But you can't very well leave a great player like Hazen (Kiki) Cuyler on the bench. I may work him in right field this season.The Chicago fans want to see new faces and I think they will see a group of determined young players who,
with the old heads, are going to send us right up to the top.

4 RECORDS SET BY JACK MEDICA

Young Swimmer Establishes World's Mark In 400 Meters

CHICAGO, April 13.—(P)—Jack Medica, University of Washington sophomore, decided to leave the women's national A. A. U. indoor swimming championships exclusively to the girls today as he filled out applications for one world's and three American distance records.

He bettered the world's mark of 4:47 by swimming the 400 meters in 4:43 Wednesday; and last night he eclipsed American records in the 850, 900 and 1,000-yard free styles.

Katherine Rawls of Miami led the individual performers today with championships in the 300 yard medley and long spring board diving. The Miami miss, a high school junior, won the diving crown last night over Dorothy Poynton of Los Angeles in the most exciting finish in the indoor meet's history.

At the finish, they were separated by only .58 of a point, Miss Rawls getting a total of 127.37 to 126.49 for Miss Poynton.

Miss Shuman, a 20-year old student at Wayne university, Detroit, conquered Annie Govednik of Virginia, Minn., world's record holder and heavy favorite, by a yard to capture the 100-yard breast stroke. The Detroit girl won with comparative ease in 1:20.9—two seconds slower than Miss Govednik's world mark.

Adding a victory in the 400-yard relay on the strength of a 1.22 finish over the final 100 yards by Lenore Kight, the Carnegie Library club team of Homestead, Pa., took the lead in the team championship race with 14 points. Other team leaders were Miami Beach club, 13, Washington A. C., Seattle, 11; Detroit Yacht club, 5. The meet closes tomorrow night.

BAER THINKS HE WILL KAYO PRIMO

Max Predicts He'll Dispose Of Carnera Before Tenth Round

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 13.—(P)—Exuding confidence, Max Baer predicted here Thursday that he would knock out Primo Carnera "before the tenth round" of their championship fight in New York June 14.

"I think Carnera's size is a handicap to him," declared the challenger, en route from California to Atlantic City to "dig into training."

"Carnera's force is in his right hand uppercut at close quarters," Baer continued. "I think I can stop that with close fighting and with short jabs with my left."

"Carnera licked Loughran with brute strength—not by boxing. Carnera isn't a boxer."

"His biggest secret is tiring his opponents out by rushing them. I plan to out-right him during his rushes."

"I think the old fight crowd is going to see another knockout. I have never predicted any of my fights before. I've merely stated that I was going to do my best. But this time I expect to get a knockout before the tenth round."

Only 13 words were used by the late Webster Wood of Oakland, Cal., to will his estate of $10,000 to his wife.

Exhibition Baseball

CARDS WALLOP BROWNS

ST. LOUIS, April 13.—(P)—Buck Newsom of the St. Louis Browns, and Dizzy Dean of the Cardinals, two loquacious righthanders who have received disfavor of the other, clashed here Thursday and Newsom was routed in an exhibition game won by the Red Birds, 22 to 9.

Besides Campbell's homer, three others were scored. West of the Browns, and Crawford and Rothrock of the Red Birds, also hit for the circuit.

St. Louis (N) ... 440 310 370—22 22 0
St. Louis (A) ... 010 010 203—9 13 2
J. Dean, Haines and Delancy; Newsom, Wells, Andrews, Backho and Hensley, Heath.

ORIOLES BEAT A'S

BALTIMORE, April 13.—(P)—Woodley Abernathy's home run, hit with the score tied and two out in the ninth, gave the Baltimore Orioles of the International league a 6 to 5 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in an exhibition game here Thursday.

Jimmy Foxx, the Athletics' super-slugger, got only a single during the game but four batters were hit by Williams of Connie Mack's outfit, and Abernathy, Bissonette and Appleton of the Birds.

PHILA. (A) ... 111 100 010—5 11 2
Baltimore (N) ... 010 010 011—6 10 1
Cascarella, Dietrich and Madjeski; Appleton and Asby.

RED SOX TRIM BEARS

NEWARK, N. J., April 13.—(P)—Bob Weiland, Boston Red Sox south-paw slated to open the season against Washington on Monday, appeared in mid-season form Thursday when the American leaguers turned back the Newark Bears, 8-1. He gave but two hits in six innings, one of them a home run by Marvin Duke, former Yankee who hurled for the Sox.

Roy Johnson and Carl Reynolds banded out homers for the Sox. Boston (A) ... 200 002 040—8 6 0
Newark (IL) ... 000 001 000—1 5 1
Weiland, Welch and Ferrell; Duke, Ogden and Glenn, Collins.

YANKS WALLOP CHARLOTTE

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 13.—(P)—With Johnny Allen hurling scoreless ball during the five innings he was on the mound, the New York Yankees went on a scoring spree Thursday to defeat the Charlotte Hornets of the Piedmont league 14 to 3 in an exhibition game played in weather that was more suitable to football.

Score: New York ... 630 020 030—14 15 0
Charlotte (IL) ... 000 000 300—3 10 4
Allen, Deshong and Dickey; Jorgens; Martin, Durham and Luckey, Bistrue.

PIRATES WHIP CHISOX

TULSA, Okla., April 13.—(P)—The Pittsburgh Pirates cinched their 14-game exhibition series against the Chicago White Sox with a lop-sided win in a high wind and on a rough diamond here Thursday afternoon. The score was 10 to 4.

Pittsburgh (N) ... 053 100 010—10 18 3
Chicago (A) ... 011 010 001—4 13 5
Swift, Johnson and Finney; Stine, Pomorski and Shea.

GIANTS, INDIANS TIE

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 13.—(P)—Carl Hubbell was hit hard in the early innings Thursday but the New York Giants routed in the second game to gain a 6 to 6 tie with the Cleveland Indians in an exhibition game called at the end of the eighth inning because of snow.

Snow was falling so heavy when the Indians came to bat that the out-fielders found it difficult to see the ball and so the game was called. Cleveland ... 010 040 01—6 11 4
New York ... 000 001 14—6 9 2
Pearson, Lee and Pytlak, Spencer; Hubbell, Bell, Smith and Richards.

CUB REGULARS WIN

CHICAGO, April 13.—(P)—The Regulars defeated the Reserves, 4 to 3, Thursday as the Chicago Cubs resumed their intra-squad "preview" exhibition series in freezing weather that kept the total attendance down to less than 200 fans and which had many of the players wearing heavy sweaters in the field and mittens at the plate.

Score: Reserves ... 000 000 300—3 11 3
Regulars ... 020 200 008—4 10 2
Timing and Phelps; Joiner and Tate.

NATS IDLE AGAIN

WASHINGTON, April 13.—(P)—Chilly weather again Thursday kept the Senators and the Brooklyn Dodgers from meeting in an exhibition game.

They may clash Friday.

Eisemann Will Cut Down Greenville Squad Today

GREENVILLE, Miss., April 13.—(P)—With the Greenville Buckshots opening the baseball season in two weeks with the Jackson Senators, Manager Bill Eisemann Thursday night said he will begin cutting down his squad of more than thirty players Friday.

New players reporting Thursday included M. D. Crook, McGhee, Arkansas, outfielder; Hobie Litton, infielder and Durwood Taylor, catcher, with Benoit Planters last season; Fred Grove, Knoxville, Tenn., outfielder; Jack Hollande, first baseman; C. E. Stauffer, Celina, Ohio, first baseman young Earl Mann as business manager.

CLUB OPERATORS FACE CAMPAIGN WITH CONFIDENCE

Rick Woodward, sportsman par excellence, was never more optimistic in his long and successful career in baseball. With the far-sighted Billy West as president and business manager, the Baron owner concedes no club the edge.

The constant good fellowship and interesting innovations of original Joe Engel have freshened interest in Southern league baseball. With Joe at the helm and competent Secretary

Lucian Emerson on—what a pair Chattanooga has to draw to!

And speaking of pairs: That father and son combination at Knoxville, Bob Allen and Edgar, are openers in any man's game—no matter how high the stakes. Remember the scare they gave their competitors the second half of last season!

Civic spirited Roy L. Thompson, president, Grady Manning, director, and Ray Winder, business manager, are again on duty at Little Rock. Against odds that would have taken the heart out of the game of the game — including receivership—they operated successfully the Little Rock club through the worst crisis in its history. Result: Receivership lifted, reorganization perfected; happy days for Little Rock again.

Thomas R. Watkins, on his record of accomplishment, is rated throughout organized baseball as one of the wisest and most resourceful executives in the game. Under his leadership,

Memphis is always entitled to pennant consideration in early season forecasts. Frank L. Longinotti is again Tom's loyal, energetic and efficient aide.

Fay L. Murray, Nashville president, successful business man, rides baseball as his hobby. His joy ride will come when he wins the pennant for his home city. The grapevine from Nashville predicts that 1934 is the year. Fay is standing pat with Jimmy Hamilton as chief of staff; but has brought back to the Southern, after several years leave of absence, a live-wire former secretary, W. A. Lillard. Charles W. Somers, president of the New Orleans club, is known to all familiar with the history of organized baseball as an outstanding factor in the rebuilding of the American league. Except for his stamina the junior major would have taken the veil in its early days. Retired from active business, Mr. Somers has shown his continued wisdom in delegating to Larry Gilbert the general management of his baseball investment in New Orleans. Genial Secretary Macon Jones will function once more as Larry's right bower on the road, and Martin Heitzmann will be as alert as ever as office manager.

Though they are proud of the history of our organization, my colleagues in the Southern are forward looking men. Their eyes are to the front, ever seeking improvement in the national sport. Throughout the ensuing season, we hope to maintain a high standard of competitive sportsmanship; and to merit the continued approval and patronage of our friends ... the baseball fans of the south.

Amid the din of the dancing savages and their beating drums, the prisoners were taken to a huge building, the only hut not built on stilts. Their captors motioned them all to enter. Coming from the daylight, at first Jean thought the building was pitch dark—

Then, as her eyes grew accustomed to the surroundings, she saw it was dimly lit from the little daylight which crept in between some high openings at the top, and between the walls and roof, throwing long, narrow shafts of light which gave a spectacular effect—

On the opposite side of the hut, she saw a large group of natives squatted on the dirt floor, their bodies swaying to the rhythmic of barbaric music. More savages began to enter. Jean was the third prisoner to be brought in. Holt was first and helped her through the narrow entrance—

DR. GRAY CITY'S FIRST HEAD OF STATE DOCTORS

Will Hold President's Office During 1936 Convention Here

Election at Shreveport Thursday Dr. C. P. Gray of Monroe to serve as the 1935 president of the Louisiana State Medical society marks the first time in the history of the organization that Ouachita parish has been honored by having one of its members named as president. Dr. A. E. Fisher, president of the Ouachita Parish Medical society, said Friday. The state society has been in existence for more than 40 years, having been organized in the early '90's.

This is the second time that a physician from northeast Louisiana has been thus honored. Soon after the society was formed Dr. I. J. Newton of Bastrop was elected as president. Dr. Newton later moved to Monroe, but was living in Bastrop at the time he headed the state organization.

The medical society also voted to hold its 1936 convention in Monroe, making the first time within 10 years that the meeting has been held here. The last session having been held here in 1926. When the convention is held here Dr. Gray will be serving as president, as he will take office at the convention in New Orleans next year and will retain that position until the conclusion of the 1938 meeting here.

Dr. Gray had previously been honored by being made an officer in the state organization, having been elected as vice president 15 years ago. Dr. F. C. Bennett of Monroe served as vice president about four years ago.

More than 20 Monroe physicians attended the convention in Shreveport, this number being about 40 per cent of the members of the Ouachita parish society, Dr. Fisher said. The parish society has a membership of more than 50. Dr. Gray was given unanimous support by the parish society.

Recently the Ouachita Parish Medical society began weekly broadcasts on subjects members believe will be of interest to the public.

This year marks the 200th anniversary of the migration of Lutheran exiles from Salzburg, Austria, to Oglethorpe's Georgia province.

economy in the governmental operations of Ouachita parish.

"Every member of the police jury," said President Breard, "is heartily in favor of the proposed reduction of the road maintenance tax. After carefully considering the whole problem of road maintenance it was decided by the jurors that the parish highway department could efficiently maintain the roads with the revenues derived from a one and a half mill tax rate, provided that requests for appropriations for new roads would be kept to a minimum. It is obvious that with a reduction of $25,000 a year in maintenance revenue no provision could be made for any extensive new construction. The police jury is asking the public to bear this in mind if and when the proposed tax rate is approved at the election to be held June 5."

"The police jury recognizes," President Breard stated, "that economy in parish government is one of the foremost issues in this state, and the members are anxious to do their part in meeting public demand. That is why the jury has earnestly sought to find means for reducing expenses without impairing efficiency of management of the public affairs. It is necessary, of course, to provide means for keeping our roads in proper condition for traffic. It would be neither the part of wisdom nor of economy to eliminate our road maintenance fund altogether. The resultant cost of being eventually obliged to entirely rebuild our road system would prove a tremendous burden on the tax-paying public. The next best thing is to cut our cost of maintainance to a minimum, and that is the object the police jury has in view in its proposal to make a reduction of the rate from two mills to one and a half mills. With a reduction of property assessments from $65,000,000 as they were three years ago, to $49,000,000 as they are today, the lower rate means substantial savings to the taxpayer. It also means that the police jury must practice the greatest economic efficiency in order to make the revenues accomplish the purpose of proper road maintenance. We hope to have the complete cooperation of the various sections of the parish in achieving this result."

Lafayette Student Wins Southwide Paper Contest

ATLANTA, April 13.—(AP)—A $50 prize for the best paper submitted by college students in a south-wide competition conducted under the auspices of the Conference on Education and Race Relations, has been awarded to Mrs. DeMila Sanders Lonsberry of Glenmora, La., a student at Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Lafayette, conference headquarters announced here last night.

The prize money has been mailed to the president of Southwestern for presentation to Mrs. Lonsberry.

The subject of the competing papers was "The Quest for Understanding," and dealt with needs for educational processes as the only bases for intelligent solution of the race problem.

The conference conducting the competition is composed of 50 southern educators, dedicated to promotion of a program of meeting the race problem through the medium of southern schools and colleges.

OBITUARY

COKER FUNERAL

Funeral services for R. W. Coker, 57, who died suddenly Wednesday night at 9 o'clock at his home at 801 Olive street, were held Friday morning. The funeral procession left Davis-Lawhead funeral home at 8:30 o'clock and was taken overland to Bar Creek cemetery near Arcadia, where last rites were observed and interment was made. A minister from Arcadia officiated.

Surviving Mr. Coker are the widow; two sons, Robert E. Coker of Monroe and T. C. Coker of Arp, Texas; a daughter, Mrs. Ruby Ates, Monroe; mother, Mrs. B. A. Coker, Dallas, Texas; three brothers, J. J. Coker and J. C. Coker of Nacogdoches, Texas, and W. T. Coker of Catulla, Texas, and two sisters, Mrs. C. M. Honeycutt and Mrs. L. M. Honeycutt of Dallas.

SKINNER FUNERAL

FERRIDAY, La., April 13.—(Special)—A large concourse of sorrowing friends Wednesday morning joined members of the family of Mrs. Charles Skinner, who died in St. Joseph on Tuesday, in paying final tribute to her memory. The funeral services were conducted at the home and interment made in the family plot of the city cemetery in Natchez.

Mrs. Skinner had been a resident of St. Joseph for the past 20 or 25 years and was held in highest regard by all who knew her. She is survived by her husband, Charles Skinner, three daughters, Mrs. Edward McDougl of Newellton, La., Mrs. Cleo Cassilis, of Ferriday, and Miss Marjorie Skinner of St. Joseph, one son, John Skinner, of Monroe, one sister, Miss Rose Guice, of Waterproof, and one brother, John Guice, of St. Joseph, La.

The services were conducted at the Presbyterian church in St. Joseph.

Governor Allen Signs Pardons For 2 Convicts

BATON ROUGE, La., April 13.—(AP)—Gov. Oscar K. Allen has signed pardons for two convicts, and a commutation for another, as follows: Roy M. Palmer, sentenced May 5, 1932 in West Feliciana parish for cow stealing, three to five years, and Julian Stafford, Rapides, sentenced May 24, 1933, to five to 10 years for robbery, pardons; Clarence Wilson, Caddo, sentenced April 25, 1931, to eight to 12 years for shooting to murder, committed to time served.

STORE EXPECTS HUGE SALE WEEK

Manager Asserts Recovery Has Taken Place Throughout Nation

"Times are better and every day brings evidence that recovery not only is taking place, but that it has taken place, not in one or two industries, but generally," said W. K. Anders, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store.

In a statement, Mr. Anders said: "Buying is being done more freely than even a few months ago. Great gains have been made for more than a year. Retail stores generally report gains of 20 to 40 per cent. And remember that retailing is a key business with fingers on the buying pulse of the nation. But there are other general indications of recovery. More businesses and families are installing than giving up telephones. Companies are increasing their advertising appropriations. Railroad traffic is running more than 13 per cent ahead of a year ago.

"We are going ahead with plans for the biggest Ward week in the history of Montgomery Ward and company. People now, as always, are interested in bargains. There isn't a family that hasn't requirements of more or less pressing importance, and many now have the means to buy, especially if the price is right. So we can say with confidence that this will be the greatest Ward week of them all.

"The fact that Ward's is in touch with approximately 15,000 sources of supply indicates the far-reaching effect of Ward week in the industrial life of the nation. Purchases total hundreds of carloads of feature barloads of regular merchandise at money-saving prices.

"Ward week is considered by many to be the greatest sale in America, with 500 Ward stores in 46 states participating. Ward week preparations reach astounding proportions. Ward's must plan months ahead for it. More than the combined populations of New York and Chicago will attend and the estimated number of transactions will exceed twenty million."
